CASA ROBLE AIR FORCE REINED SUPERIOR

Casa Roble Air Force Junior ROTC Cadets competed with 14 other Junior ROTC Units from throughout Northern California during the drill meet competition at Rio Linda High School on January 28, 2017. The cadets won 1 third place (Platoon without Arms), 1 second place (Squad with Arms), 1 second place (Squad without Arms), 1 second place (Platoon with Arms), 1 first place (Color Guard Junior Varsity) and we won 1st overall Sweepstakes! The cadets earning the Sweepstakes trophy for being the best! The competition was very tough, but Casa Roble Air Force reined superior that day. Photo and article submitted by Sgt J. DeVenere.

ABOUT THE ORANGEVALE VIEW

The "Orangevale View" – the ultimate, award-winning community newspaper – serves Orangevale and surrounding areas, including Fair Oaks, Citrus Heights, and Folsom, CA. With a present estimated readership of more than 37,000, this FREE paper grows with every issue. It is delivered twice a month to at least 15,000 residents' homes and to more than 100 high traffic locations.

The views and opinions printed within are not necessarily those of Publisher Brad Tatum or the Orangevale View staff. Rather, the views and opinions expressed are those of each individual contributor.

SUBMISSION POLICIES:

Submissions from you, our readers, are always welcome, for this is YOUR newspaper. We await school, church, or sports team materials, anniversaries, births, special occasions, memorials, or other items of interest. Donations are encouraged and accepted for anniversaries, births, and other special milestones and announcements. Publication is at the discretion of the Orangevale View staff.

Requirements are simple:

- (1) Acknowledge that either you are the author or you have permission to publish from the original author;
- (2) Articles should not exceed 300 words. We like Community Calendar items of 45 words or less.
- (3) Format: Microsoft Word format with photos at least 300 dpi JPEG or PDF.

Please use this format so we do not have to send your work back to you for corrections.

- (4) The View does not verify the accuracy of your submissions, and in some cases, dates and information are subject to change.
- (5) Please email submissions, to YOUR newspaper. The email address is editor@ovview.com. It is you, our contributors, readers and advertisers who make the Orangevale View a newspaper you want to read.

BUSINESS SPOTLIGHT LAST TANGLE CELEBRATES 30 YEARS

The Last Tangle Salon is the largest salon in Orangevale and has been home to the same location for over 30 years. Owned by only four owners in that duration, Julie and Justin King recently purchased the salon in September 2016 and are currently making design changes and updates. Julie has worked at the salon for 12 years as a licensed nail technician and has been a part of the large, long time family of staff. The Last Tangle offers services for all hair types and are current with all the latest techniques as the salon is home to over 20 cosmetologists. The Last Tangle also offers waxing, massage, varied nail and lash services including extensions and tinting. We have an extensive retail of well known hair and styling products including Sebastian, Pureology and ISO. We are most proud of our Local Artisan Boutique that includes scarves, jewelry, cards and candles and is ever changing as we find new, local artisans. The family of women that work together at The Last Tangle Salon are very proud of our salon and welcome you to come by and see all the wonderful changes we are making to our beautiful home!

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR - Regarding Turning Point

Dear Editor

On February 7th, 2017, the Board of Supervisors for Sacramento County approved a development in our Orangevale without giving the community notice to attend the hearing to make our voices heard. The Board of Supervisors with Orangevale's newly elected Supervisor, Sue Frost trampled our rights as members of the Orangevale community to a fair hearing on development projects in Orangevale.

The project was a proposed Accessory Dwelling on a small lot on Beech Avenue between Elm and Oak Avenue. This project proposed the construction of a second home on an already impacted parcel of land. Not only would this home be the second one on the property but it soars to over 30 feet in height according to public documents. This means it is more than a mere single family residence; it is a multi-story monstrosity in the middle of our Orangevale. This project was presented at the Orangevale Community Planning Council (CPAC) in October. There the CPAC voted to deny the project for obvious reasons. The building is too large and tall, too dense of development, opposed by neighbors on all sides of it, and inconsistent with our rural Orangevale. Yet the County approved it anyway.

How can the Orangevale community have their voice heard if the County is not notifying us of important meetings? This hearing was not published on the usual County CPAC mailing list nor posted on the CPAC website. How can we make our voices heard if our new Supervisor is approving projects without even telling us; the community, about them? I hope this is a one-time mistake by Supervisor Frost. Our community deserves to be heard. Our community deserves to have the opportunity to have our voices heard before our unique Orangevale way of life is threatened any further.

-J.J.

Orangevale

Dear Editor,

We sincerely thank the hundreds of residents who have joined us to oppose the proposed opening of a Mental Crisis Residential Center on Elm Avenue, just 500 feet from Louis Pasteur Middle School and near three other Orangevale schools.

Our group formed in October after we were shocked to learn that Turning Point Community Programs plans to obtain a zoning change and special permit to open a 15-bed facility in the heart of our semi-rural community.

We are parents, teachers, business owners, retirees, and others united by a single belief – the location for this crisis facility is inappropriate and poses an unnecessary risk to schoolchildren.

We support expanded services for the mentally ill, but Elm Avenue is the wrong location. We also believe the planning process and lack of transparency and communication by Sacramento County and Turning Point show a disregard for our community and quality of life.

The latest updates:

- We have collected signatures from 1,400 residents who oppose the location. Please encourage relatives and friends to visit our website and sign the petition. www.protectovkids.com

- If you'd like a t-shirt (to wear to the upcoming hearing) or lawn sign, let us know by email (Ericka@protectovkids.com)

- Turning Point's earliest possible hearing date before the Orangevale Community Planning Advisory Council is March 7 at 6:30 p.m. The meeting would be at the Orangevale Community Center and we will need a huge turnout to support our case.

- Turning Point has held at least two meetings with our new county supervisor, Sue Frost, and has offered tours of its existing facilities to elected officials.

- Our group met with Supervisor Frost and while we believe she supports our position, more input from the community is vital. Please call her office to express concerns about the facility. Supervisor Frost is newly elected and will be under tremendous pressure to allow this facility to go through on Elm Avenue. Her office number is 916-874-5491. Her email is SupervisorFrost@saccounty.net

Thank you,
Katrina Blackburn
Protect OV Kids
www.protectovkids.com

Dear Editor,

I was very troubled to see a recent letter writer in the Orangevale View mischaracterize residents who oppose the mental crisis center proposed for Elm Avenue. The writer suggested that we are un-Christian and a bunch of heartless "NIMBYs" who have no empathy for people struggling with mental illness. Nothing could be further from the truth. The neighbors I have met through this effort are all good, hardworking, compassionate people. Each of us supports expanded services for the mentally ill and we all have friends or family touched by this heartbreaking disease. That is not the issue, and it is upsetting that some people have tried to label us unfairly. The real issue is that the facility operator, Turning Point Community Programs, selected a site that is just 500 feet from our local middle school, Louis Pasteur, and within a half-mile of three other Orangevale schools. That creates an immediate safety risk to hundreds of children, a risk that simply would not exist at another site.

The real issue is that the county partnered with Turning Point by providing the operator a grant of more than $2 million in taxpayer funds, and that neither party bothered to reach out to the community about their plans before the property was purchased. This is a highly offensive oversight, at best, and represents a lack of transparency I find disturbing.

The real issue is that our zoning in this neighborhood – agricultural/residential – was written to give us an assurance that we will continue to enjoy the peaceful lifestyle that makes Orangevale special. If our zoning counts for nothing, and commercial facilities like the proposed mental crisis center are approved on a whim, what's next? I hope everyone will consider the true facts when evaluating this proposal, and will not be swayed by falsehoods and insults thrown at those with legitimate reasons to oppose it.

BE STORM READY

EMERGENCY KIT

Emergencies happen, and preparation and response can make a world of difference in the impact they have on you and your family. Having the items you need can be a life saver—figuratively and literally—in the event you have to evacuate your home during an emergency. Create an emergency kit and personalize it for your family's particular needs. Check it every six months to be sure it is up-to-date.

Basic Kit
Flashlight and extra batteries
First aid kit and first aid reference material
Radio – wind-up or battery-operated, with extra batteries
Local maps
Water – One gallon per person per day for at least three days
Food – At least a three-day

supply of non-perishable food
Whistle, to signal for help
Dust mask, to help filter contaminated air
Moist toiettes, garbage bags and plastic ties, for personal sanitation
Wrench or pliers to turn off utilities
Can opener
Contact information for family and friends
ATM and credit cards
Cash and change
Prescriptions (enough for a week), along with a list of medications and dosages for each family member and the reason for use
Eye glasses, hearing aids, and other assistive devices (e.g. cane, walker, etc.)
Portable phone
Personal hygiene items (e.g. toothbrush, toilet paper, etc.)
Mylar blanket
Keys
Copies of important documents in a waterproof, portable container (e.g. photo ID, insurance cards and policies, bank account records, etc.)

Plastic sheeting and duct tape, to shelter-in-place
Infant formula and diapers
Sleeping bag or warm blanket for each person
Household chlorine bleach and medicine dropper. To use as a disinfectant, dilute nine parts water to one part bleach. Or in an emergency, you can use it to treat water by using 16 drops of regular household liquid bleach per gallon of water. Do not use scented, color safe or bleaches with added cleaners.
Matches in a waterproof container
Fire extinguisher
Mess kit, paper cups, plates, plastic utensils, paper towels
Pencil and paper
Books and activities for children
Written instructions for how to turn off electricity, gas, and water. Remember, you'll need a professional to turn them back on.

REAL ESTATE NEWS

PRICE YOUR HOME TO SELL

Establishing the right price for your home makes it competitive, reduces the number of days it's on the market and improves your chances of obtaining a full price offer. To determine the right price, have your realtor complete a market analysis of your neighborhood. If your home needs a roof, new windows, a fence or maybe a kitchen remodel, you will have to price it accordingly.

Your realtor will analyze the final sales price and terms of the comparable recent sales in your neighborhood for the past few months, based on the local guidelines.

There are several factors to consider when preparing for the sale of your home.

1) The condition. When the buyers walk in, are they going to say "I love this place"? Have you repaired the dripping faucets and squeaking doors? Cleaned, painted and de-cluttered? How's the curb appeal? You'd be amazed at what a little trimming, some bark and a few plants for the flower beds can do for your curb appeal.

2) Select an agent with experience, good communication skills and willing to spend time and money to market your home. Your agent needs to provide you with feedback from the buyers who have looked at your home. You need to know why they aren't making an offer.

3) Remember, it's all about price. Your price needs to be near to what the homes like yours have actually SOLD for recently, rather than the current listing price of the comparable properties that are for sale. Although your home will probably sell for 'fair market value', it is wiser to price it closer to the selling prices rather than the asking prices

Each neighborhood has a low, average and high sales price. Be honest with yourself; if you don't have a remodeled kitchen and your neighbor does, you cannot price your home the same as theirs. You will only be frustrated and cause your home to be on the market longer. Contact a real estate professional for their advice and help to price your home correctly. It will make the process a lot more pleasant in the long run.

Orangevale Cooks

by Suzanne Feblowitz

Since this is such a great time of year for chili, I thought it would be fun to try another! A good friend who lives in Maryland gave me her favorite chili recipe. This recipe is an easy one with ingredients that you usually have on hand. She originally got this recipe from the Taste of Home magazine. It is a simple recipe that only takes about 10 minutes to prepare and 40 minutes to cook.

If you would like to share a favorite recipe, please send a copy to Suzanne Feblowitz at the Orangevale View (editor@ovview.com). Be sure to include your phone number or email with your recipe in case we need to contact you. If you wish to remain anonymous, just let us know and we will omit your name.

CREAMY WHITE CHILI

- 1 pound boneless skinless chicken breasts, cut into 1/2-inch cubes
- 1 medium onion, chopped
- 1-1/2 teaspoons garlic powder
- 1 tablespoon canola oil
- 2 cans (15-1/2 ounces each) great northern beans, rinsed and drained
- 1 can (14-1/2 ounces) chicken broth
- 2 cans (4 ounces each) chopped green chilies
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon ground cumin
- 1 teaspoon dried oregano
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper
- 1/4 teaspoon cayenne pepper
- 1 cup (8 ounces) sour cream
- 1/2 cup heavy whipping cream

Directions

- In a large saucepan, sauté the chicken, onion and garlic powder in oil until chicken is no longer pink. Add the beans, broth, chilies and seasonings. Bring to a boil. Reduce heat; simmer, uncovered, for 30 minutes.

- Remove from the heat; stir in sour cream and cream.

KEEP PETS SAFE

It's important to ensure the safety of all members of the family in disaster, including your pets.

Before an emergency Make sure your pet has identification, such as an ID tag or microchip.

Locate a shelter for you and your pet. Pets are not allowed in public shelters, so consider alternatives such as homes of family and friends, hotels and motels that allow pets, or kennels and veterinary hospitals.

Have a crate or pet carrier available. This will also prevent your pet from running away in case of panic.

Including the following pet items when preparing your

emergency kit:

Extra water

Pet food and medications

Copy of your pet's vaccination records

Photo of you with your pet as proof of ownership

Litter, pan or newspaper, and plastic bags for sanitation needs

Leash, collar, and ID tags

Pet's favorite toy or familiar items (to reduce stress)

Develop a support team. Ask a neighbor, friend or relative to look after and evacuate your pet if necessary. Tell them where your emergency kit is located and where to meet during the emergency.

Prepare a list of emergency contact information including veterinary hospitals and animal control agencies.

During an emergency

Bring your pets inside during an emergency.

If you must evacuate without your pet, leave your pet loose inside your home with plenty of food and water. Place a note outside your home with the following information:
Type of pet and where it is in your home

Your contact information

Your vet's contact information

After an Emergency

If you leave town, take your pets with you.

Your pets may be disoriented after the disaster. Give them time to settle down and maintain close contact and monitor them closely.

Changes in your pet's behavior are normal after a disaster, if problems persist contact your veterinarian.
