Letter to Editor:
Orangevale Recreation and Park District?

Orangevale residents: Here's my question for you, if you are a director for Orangevale Recreation and Park District, whose interests would you put first? 1. Your personal or prideful self-interests? 2. The District Administrator's? 3. The District's? 4. Their legal counsel's? 4. Orangevale residents?

Orangevale residents: Here's what I know, O.R. & P. D. was reorganized (1983) to serve Orangevale residents. One way in which Orangevale Recreation and Park District serves Orangevale residents is by providing a public mechanism (board meetings) to engage in collective decision-making. When our District's elected Board of Directors makes a public decision, the guiding principle must always be what best serves the public's (Orangevale residents) interests. One primary purpose of our District's Board of Directors is to publicly provide for recreational needs occurring throughout Orangevale, to provide recreation and parks and facilities to Orangevale residents, through state and federal laws, to guide individual behaviors to promote the overall safety, well-being and prosperity of the community of Orangevale.

Orangevale residents: Here's what I know. In the 34 year History of O.R. & P.D., our Board of Directors has never included Orangevale residents on our District's Organizational Chart. Our Board of Directors has never publicly adopted/established a community engagement-outreach policy. Our District has never publicly provided the formation documents (public records) for our District's 1983 reorganization by Sacramento county supervisors. Orangevale residents: O.R. & P. D. is currently advertizing/seeking, due to director resignation, a candidate for our District's Board of Directors. In the District's public five (5) page application form, item number 10. States in-part, "Describe why you would be able to put the interests of the District first?"

Sincerely; Terry Benedict
A 47 year Orangevale resident

LETTER TO EDITOR

Dear Editor:

As a recent transplant to Orangevale I find your publication both helpful and interesting. In response to your letter from Sue Aimes in the issue dated 4-28-17, I have to say I also read with interest (and applaud) the letter from the Orangevale couple in the issue dated 4-12-17. I found their views honest and refreshing. Conversely, this put me at odds with some of Sue Aimes comments. She seems to be concerned about our former president being "bent on globalization". Just yesterday I heard the man child currently in the White House say he was both a nationalist and a globalist. Just another very small example of his constant flip-flops. The truth is we are a global nation and not a country in isolation. No man or nation is a island and progress is a good thing. If you long for the "good old days", I suggest you watch reruns of Mayberry RFD.

As a fellow senior citizen, I implore Sue Aimes to delve into Trumps policies very closely especially health care. I assure you Madam, unless you are very rich, very young or in very good health you may find you are going to have to decide on health care insurance or food. This ego maniac is bad for our country, especially those economically depressed souls who make up a large portion of his base and don't even know they are now enjoying benefits under Obamacare.

This man is now the president of all the people, he needs to take steps to reach out to those of us that did not vote for him (and remember there are more of us) instead of having those ridiculous campaign rally like the one last night in Philadelphia designed to feed his ego and play to his base.

Sandra Rush

Dear Editor,

We are writing with an important update on the proposal to open a crisis mental health facility on Elm Avenue, across from Louis Pasteur Middle School. Over the past two months, we have had extensive communication with Sacramento County officials and Turning Point Community Programs, the organization that owns the property and intended to seek county permission to open the 15-bed facility. In part due to the strong support of Orangevale residents through our petition drive, Turning Point has now agreed not to open a facility at the Elm Avenue location.

In a message to a member of our group on April 12, Chief Executive Officer Al Rowlett said "Turning Point Community Programs will not pursue a special use permit and has no intent to repurpose the property."

We are gratified that Turning Point has responded to our community's concerns about the location of its proposed facility so close to schools, and in an agricultural/residential area not zoned for such a use. We also acknowledge the need for expanded mental health care services and appreciate Turning Point's efforts to help people in need. As such, some members of our group have agreed to assist in the search to find more workable locations for Turning Point's residential treatment centers.

For now, Protect OV Kids is throttling back its active campaign and assuming a "watchful waiting" posture. In a show of good faith, we are also asking neighbors to take down Protect OV Kids signs, which will help facilitate Turning Point's efforts to sell the Elm Avenue property.

We sincerely thank everyone for their support and we pledge to communicate any important updates on this issue in the future. We would also like to thank the Orangevale Park and Recreation District board for listening to residents and voting to oppose the proposed Elm Avenue location.

CASA'S NEWMAN FIELD OVERHAUL COMING SOON!

Casa's Newman Field Overhaul Coming Soon!
After much anticipation, and thanks to the passage of Measure N in 2012, Casa Roble is finally getting a stadium make by homecoming," she added. Once work crews begin the project, the track will be closed until further notice. In the meantime, Casa sports will be redirected to other fields. Casa project gets completed. "We'll keep our families and fans up to date on the progress," said Lorenzo. "It's something to really look forward to this over this summer! Crews are expected to break ground after June 8 on the extensive project. The work includes overhauling the outdated field with new turf, scoreboard, goal posts, shot put and discus throwing pits for track and field, entrance booth, snack bar and what's bound to be a fan favorite, permanent restrooms!

According to Casa Principal, Michele Lorenzo, the construction should take approximately 4 ½ months to complete. Other projects earmarked for future renovation include revamping the library, counseling and registrar offices, and administration building all originally built 50 years ago. These will be part of a new multi-use, state of the art, Student Union yet to be scheduled.

"There are lots of exciting changes coming to Casa and we ask for everyone's patience as construction gets underway," Lorenzo said. "Ideally we'd like to unveil the new field during the 2017 football season. Hopefully football fans can anticipate home games to be held at Bella Vista until renovations are complete. Updates will be coming as the

Clean & Sober Recovery Services Expands Counseling and Treatment

How much drinking is too much? Are two glasses of wine every night too much? And how about that pain pill prescription from the doctor – is it OK to keep taking that? Well, it depends. While there isn't a specific "yard stick" for too much drinking or too many pain pills, you can look at your life and see how it is working. Are you getting DUIs? Holding down a job? How is your health? Your marriage or other relationships? The answers to these questions go a long way towards helping you understand if you or someone you love has an issue with drugs or alcohol. If you need help, Clean & Sober Recovery Services, Inc. (CSRS) has just opened the CSRS Outpatient Counseling Center in Orangevale. The center will offer intensive outpatient services to people who have become chemically-dependent upon alcohol or other drugs (known as "Substance Use Disorder.") Individual counseling and group sessions, available during the day or evenings, offer the flexibility to get help while meeting family or work obligations. WHEN SHOULD I UPDATE MY WILL OR TRUST?

Since your family's needs and circumstances are constantly changing, so too must your estate plan.

Birth or Adoption: Your current trust may not automatically include your new family member as a beneficiary.

Children Growing Up: As children grow up, your thoughts on what was good for them at the creation of your estate planning documents may have changed.

Marriage: Marriage is an essential time to update your estate plan. Assuming your assets automatically transfer to your spouse is dangerous thinking, especially if there was a prior marriage.

Divorce: Divorce will likely cause you to want to update many items in your estate plan.

Death: If a person that was named in your will or trust has passed away, update your Estate Plan. Positions that are named in your estate plan are typically executors, designated health care power of attorney or general/financial power of attorney, guardians for your children, or beneficiaries.

Change in Assets: You may want to update your estate plan if you have had a salary increase, received an inheritance or purchased a large asset.

Business Ownership: If you have started or acquired a business since you wrote your estate planning documents, you will want to have your estate plan updated.

Move Homes: Transferring your deed into your trust will help protect you and your loved ones. It is also a great tax strategy.

REAL ESTATE NEWS

RENOVATIONS THAT CAN REDUCE YOUR HOME'S VALUE

When it comes to selling a home, most people look for ways and ideas to increase the value of their home, but did you know there are improvements or renovations that can actually REDUCE the value? Here are just a few of them:

Don't expand your master bedroom if it eliminates another bedroom - Small master bedrooms are a common complaint by buyers, and in some cases, the only way to expand a master bedroom is to lose other bedrooms. However, fewer bedrooms mean fewer potential buyers. Most buyers have a specific number of bedrooms in mind and don't ever look at homes that have less.

Don't convert a garage into living space - Transforming your garage may seem like a better way to increase your living space, and certainly can be less costly than building an addition from the ground up; but there is a large population of buyers that will not even look at properties that don't have a garage. This change could mean a reduced value of your home by $10,000 or more.

Don't paint interior walls dark colors - Although dark interior walls are the latest trend, there are many buyers who may not 'feel' the room is cozy and elegant. For a lot of home buyers, the purchase of a home is about the 'feel' of a house and that can sway their decision about purchasing it.

If you're thinking of selling your home and want more information, contact an experienced real estate professional for advice before making any major repairs or renovations.

Orangevale Cooks

by Suzanne Feblowitz

Spring has finally arrived!! This first week in May is more like summer! So, with the change in weather, we need to start thinking differently about our food. Things that require outdoor cooking or no cooking at all are best for this type of weather. Luckily, Pat Dunkel was thinking this way when she sent in her recipe for Hawaiian Coleslaw. This salad is perfect for this time of year! I have also included my brother-in-law's recipe for coleslaw.

If you would like to share a favorite recipe, please send a copy to Suzanne Feblowitz at the Orangevale View (editor@ovview.com). Be sure to include your phone number or email with your recipe in case we need to contact you. If you wish to remain anonymous, just let us know and we will omit your name.

HAWAIIAN COLESLAW

4 c. cabbage, shredded
 1 (8 oz.) can pineapple, crushed, drained
 1/4 c. each raisins, coconut,

nuts
 3/4 c. your favorite coleslaw dressing
 Mix and serve.
 Good & easy!

ALAN'S COLESLAW

Head of cabbage, finely shredded
 1 cup mayonnaise
 2 TBSP sugar
 2 TBSP Red Wine Vinegar
 Mix ingredients together. Add more sugar and vinegar to taste. Toss with the finely shredded cabbage for a delicious coleslaw.

SPRING HAS ARRIVED AT OVFB

Spring has arrived and Orangevale Food Bank is grateful for the blessing of the rain this year. Our drought in Northern California is coming to an end. As Spring arrives, our trees bloom and bear fruit. Our Food Bank vegetable garden will be planted and we look forward to our crops of tomatoes, squash, cucumber, peppers, corn, and more to be distributed.

Spring not only brings good weather and sunshine, but it also brings opportunity for our volunteers to work together and to nurture our Food Bank garden. Tending a garden strengthens the health of our food bank community. Additionally, our volunteers develop a strong bond with one another as they work side by side. One of our faithful volunteers who makes our garden possible is Dwight Sparks. Dwight and many of our other volunteers' dedication to tending our garden is much appreciated by everyone who reaps what they sow. Volunteers make sure the soil is healthy and incorporate compost from our compost pile. They plant a wide variety of vegetables, water them, manage the weeds, and harvest the produce. It is a true labor of love.

Spring brings promise. The promise of an end to the coldness of winter and the beginnings of warmth and renewal. We are looking forward to what this season brings to our wonderful Orangevale and Fair Oaks communities

PETACULAR

Hey there, it's Kat again!

I decided to just answer some Frequently Asked Questions in my article this time because I have been very busy studying to become a master groomer through the NDGAA. Wish me luck! Since I opened The Prancing Poodle in October, I have received many questions over the phone, or people have stopped by my shop. Here are just a few:

Q: Do you only accept poodles?

A: No, we bathe and groom all breeds of dogs.

Q: Do you provide other services?

A: Actually I do! Teeth brushing, whitening, de-skunking, flea treatment, conditioners and color jobs, just to name a few.

Q: What days are you open?

A: We are open Tuesday through Saturday, 8 AM to 4 PM.

Q: How long will it take to groom my dog?

A: This varies drastically on a case-by-case basis, depending on how busy we are, the condition of the dogs coat, and what you desire in your dog's groom. Expect a minimum of two hours.

Q: What do you provide in your full grooming and/or bath packages?

A: Full grooming and bathing includes two Hydro massage baths, customized shampoo, nails trimmed or filed, ear inspection (with plucking if necessary), and a check of anal glands if requested. It ends with bandannas or bows, and a treat for your happy dog!

Q: Do you take credit cards?

A: Yes, we accept all forms of credit and debit cards.

Q: How much do you typically charge?

A: The answer varies according to breed, size, condition of the coat, and the attitude of the dog. Typically, a full haircut for a small dog will start at $50 to $55. A good rule of thumb is the longer the hair, the larger the dog, the higher the cost to groom the dog.

Q: How often should I get my dog groomed?

A: Most dogs get groomed every 4 to 6 weeks. If you prefer longer hair for your dog, groom it every 6 to 8 weeks. A grooming after 8 weeks often ends up costing more because of the extra work for us and the dog.

Q: How long should I typically go between nail trims?

A: 2 to 4 weeks. I recommend people get their dog's nails done in between groomings, or just get it bathed which usually comes with nail trimming.

Q: Can you do a puppy cut on my dog?

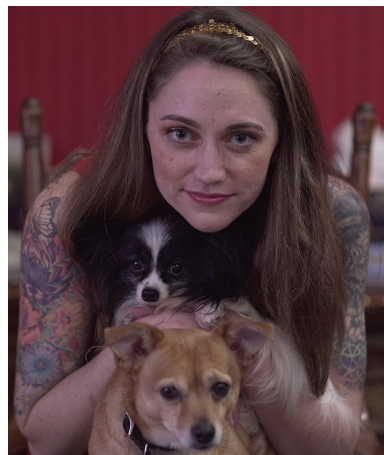

A: What I typically tell people is to get a cut that is a single length all over, not too short and not too long. When I think of a puppy cut, I think of a puppy's first groom which would be a sanitary, face and feet trim. We want the dog to get used to noises and to get trained on the table.

Q: How long have you been part of the dog grooming Industry?

A: I was a bather/grooming assistant for three years, from 2009, to 2012 before I started grooming dogs. I've been involved in this industry for a total of eight years. Although the experience you acquire from grooming dogs is helpful, of greater value is how much you actually care about your profession and are willing to learn and continuously improve.

Q: What does "award-winning groomer" mean for my dog?

A: It means that you and your dog will be provided an award-winning grooming experience for any service, on par with the show dogs. It also means that your groomer is dedicated to pushing the standard of his or her self and the pet grooming industry ever higher.

KATHLEEN SCHULTS

Q: Are you a certified dog groomer?

A: Yes. It's important to be certified nationally because, even though dog grooming is not currently regulated, I believe that it's a profession where one should follow standards and guidelines designed to enhance the appearance, health and safety of your valued pet. As a certified groomer, through both the NDGAA and the IPG, I understand, uphold and practice professional standards of these organizations.

Don't forget to go to our annual Pow Wow Days in Orangevale. My gang and I will be in the parade. Hopefully, I'll be riding my horse, and of course there will be lots of furry friends.

Kathleen (Kat) Schultz is the owner/operator of The Prancing Poodle All Breed Grooming located at 9346 Greenback Lane, Suite 1, between Maine and Walnut Avenue. The Prancing Poodle is now a Chamber member of Orangevale, CA.

ASSEMBLYMAN | 6TH ASSEMBLY DISTRICT

KEVIN KILEY

On April 20 State Assembly voted 76-0 in favor of ACR 21, a resolution urging California's universities to renew their commitment to freedom of speech as a foundational campus value. The resolution was authored by Assemblyman Kevin Kiley (R-Roseville) and Assemblyman Bill Quirk (D-Hayward).

"Usually with legislation, we are asked to support one idea or another," Kiley said on the Assembly floor. "Today's resolution is a lot easier: we're supporting ideas themselves, at the place where they are most vital – our institutions of higher learning."

Assemblyman Quirk also spoke on the measure. "As a scientist and teacher at three universities I strongly believe that free speech is one of the most precious rights we have," Quirk said. "However, after the violent demonstrations at the UC Berkeley campus, many believe that California doesn't actually allow for free speech. We have to change that. I know that colleges and universities struggle to balance free speech and free expression; but I also know it can be done. The University of Chicago and UC Irvine have shown us how we can develop the right policies to ensure free speech."

The resolution asks California universities to adopt what is known as the University of Chicago Statement on Free Expression, or a similar free speech statement, that guarantees "all members of the University community the broadest possible latitude to speak, write, listen, challenge and learn," and that affirms the university's "solemn responsibility not only to promote a lively and fearless freedom of debate and deliberation, but also to protect that freedom when others attempt to restrict it."

Its passage takes place against a backdrop of several high-profile instances in which campus speech was limited or shut down. That includes protests at Berkeley, Davis, and Middlebury, as well as the proliferation of restrictive speech codes and a rise in disinvitations to campus speakers (totaling 43 reported instances in 2016, up from six in 2000). The trend is referenced in the prologue of ACR 21, which cites a statement from UC Chancellor Janet Napolitano warning that "freedom of speech" is giving way to "freedom from speech" on college campuses.

Eighteen universities have free speech statements modelled on the Chicago Statement on Free Expression. The California State Assembly is the first legislative body in the country to urge its adoption.
