VOLLEYBALL CHAMPS!

Congratulations to the Louis Pasteur 6th/7th Grade Girls Volleyball team for finishing the season undefeated! Now off to the playoffs! Best of luck girls! Go Tigers!

Donations Collected at Station 29 in Orangevale were taken to Fire Victims

DONATIONS COLLECTED BY METRO FIRE FIREFIGHTER'S FAMILY TO DEPART FOR SONOMA

Orangevale, CA – In reaction to the devastating wildfires throughout Northern California, a Sacramento Metropolitan Fire District (Metro Fire or District) Firefighter and his family began collecting household and personal items to donate to the victims of the Tubbs Fire in Sonoma County where he and his family lived before relocating to the Sacramento area. Within 24 hours of an email to his fellow coworkers at Metro Fire offering to take anyone else's donations, an overwhelming response resulted with several stations throughout the District having collected truckloads of items to be donated. Not to be outdone, this Firefighter's wife also simultaneously coordinated with their place of worship and children's schools where equally as impressive results were quickly achieved.

This selfless act by the Firefighter shows his dedication to one of Metro Fire's Core Values of "Service Before Self" and the contributions throughout the organization show our Core Value of "Teamwork." We are humbled by the selflessness and teamwork by the community to assist his efforts to provide any amount of relief to victims of the Tubbs Fire.

The Sacramento Area Fire Fighters' Local 522 is also making this endeavor possible. Local 522 has offered to cover the cost of a U-Haul rental truck for this Firefighter, who is making the trip on his only day off in a nine day period, to drive the donations to Sonoma County.

An essential mission of Metro Fire is to provide emergency response to the community we serve. Those of us who were unable to respond on the strike teams, task forces, and overhead positions still have a desire to help, and this is our outlet. We want to stress this story is about the community throughout the Sacramento Region. We are grateful to those we serve and feel the region has provided us another opportunity to help those in need that we are obligated to fulfill.

2017 FIRE PREVENTION POSTER CONTEST

Pre-K through 6th grade students are invited to participate in a contest honoring National Fire Prevention Week (October 8-14, 2017). There are two chances to win prizes this year! Students may enter the Poster Contest, the Home Escape Plan Challenge, or both! The 2017 Fire Prevention Week theme is:

"Every Second Counts: Plan 2 Ways Out!"

Win $100 for your elementary school and a pizza party for your class!

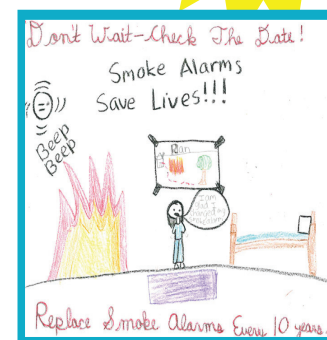

Pizza Guys

Part 1 Poster Contest

1. Posters should promote the Fire Prevention Week theme, and encourage fire safety awareness in the home, school and community.
2. Posters must be drawn on an 8 1/2 by 11 inch letter-sized white paper.
3. Student's name, school, grade and teacher's name must be on the back of the poster.
4. One (1) entry per student.
5. Posters are to be completed by students, without assistance.
6. Only hand-drawn entries will be accepted (no computer-generated imaging).
7. A panel of judges will select the winning posters based on originality, clarity of message, design and age-appropriate skill. The decision of the judges is final.

Part 2 Home Fire Escape Plan

1. Students will take home the NFPA How to Make a Home Fire Escape Plan worksheet. (Teachers should contact their fire department if they need help with printing copies of the worksheet.) Worksheet can be found at sparkyschoolhouse.org (scroll down to find Fire Prevention Week resources).
2. Students will fill out the worksheet with a parent or guardian.
3. Every student that brings the worksheet back to school, with the Home Fire Escape Plan filled in, will be entered to win a prize.
4. Teachers may submit the worksheets, or a list of names of students that submitted a worksheet.

2016 Poster Contest Winner

Submissions

Submit posters by November 3, 2017 to:

Rules

The poster and worksheet submission deadline is November 3, 2017. The winning posters from each grade will be judged by fire service personnel and hospital staff. The winners will be notified by November 20, 2017. Three winners (1st, 2nd and 3rd place) will be chosen from each grade level. One grand prize winner for the Poster Contest, and one for the Home Escape Plan Challenge will receive ~$100 for their elementary school, a pizza party for their class and a small prize for themselves. The winning poster will be used in promotional material where appropriate. All winners will be honored at an awards ceremony where refreshments will be served at Shriner's Hospitals for Children, attended by their parents, teachers, principals and local fire officials at 5:00pm on Friday, December 8, 2017.

10 TIPS TO MAKE YOUR HALLOWEEN SAFE, NOT SPOOKY

Everyone wants to have a fun and safe Halloween, and with a little pre-planning, you can keep your night from turning spooky or downright scary. The California Department of Insurance offers the following tips to help keep your Halloween celebrations lively and safe.

- Before you load up your Batmobile to go trick-or-treating, conduct a quick safety check. Make sure you have a roadside emergency kit and that all of your insurance papers are up-to-date and easily accessible. If you don't have current insurance coverage, visit mylowcostauto.com to learn more about California's state-sponsored low cost auto insurance and see if you qualify.

- Be aware of the little ghouls and goblins when behind the wheel. Slow down and stay alert when driving in residential areas crawling with trick-or-treaters. Don't be a little devil. Follow the rules of the road. By following posted speed limits and other traffic laws you'll avoid tickets and spikes in your insurance rates.

- Turn on the headlights. Keep yourself visible to pedestrians by turning on your car's headlights when driving through residential areas.

- Don't let your little monsters run wild. Make sure children stay on sidewalks and watch for cars when crossing the street. Kids have a greater chance of being fatally injured by a car on Halloween than any other day of the year.

- Choose your costumes wisely. Make sure that you select masks and costumes that make it easy to see and move around in.

- Light up your night. Carry a flashlight and wear bright colors or add reflective tape to your costume to remain visible to passing cars, which is especially important late at night.

- Make your monster bash a big smash. Spice up your haunted gathering with spooky decorations and creative games for both kids and adults to play. Also, try non-alcoholic, Halloween-themed drinks that keep designated drivers in mind.

- The sugar high can wait. Make sure you inspect all Halloween candy before digging in.

- Be safe, be smart and have fun. On behalf of all of us at the California Department of Insurance, Happy Halloween!

MOBILIZING AGAINST NEW TAXES

Assemblyman Kevin Kiley

CALIFORNIANS ARE MOBILIZING AGAINST NEW TAXES

A few weeks ago, as the Legislature was wrapping up its final business of 2017, the Speaker of the Assembly hailed this year as the most "progressive" in California history. Now, I often do not agree with the Speaker. But in at least one sense, this superlative was accurate: the just-completed legislative session brought the tax burden of Californians to unprecedented heights.

New taxes and fees were slapped onto gasoline, vehicle registration, real estate transactions, and even phone bills. While we were successful in defeating a dreadful water tax and yet another income tax hike, the overall growth in revenue – dollars transferred from citizens to government – is staggering, and I believe, exactly the wrong course for our state. And the people of California agree: Republicans, Democrats, and Independents alike have registered broad opposition to these burdensome new taxes.

The good news is that citizen opposition is turning into grassroots action. The people of California are starting to fight back. When the Legislature imposed the largest gas tax increase in state history, $52 billion over 10 years, voters responded in two ways: by launching an initiative to repeal the gas tax and by initiating a recall against the Orange County Senator who cast the deciding vote. Frustrated with politicians in Sacramento, citizens took matters into their own hands using the tools of direct democracy.

The response by tax-hike supporters is telling: they tried to take these tools of democracy away from Californians, putting up roadblocks to stymie the voter revolt. The Attorney General sought to thwart the gas tax repeal by disguising the fact that it targets one of the most unpopular laws in recent California history, issuing a ballot title that omits the words "gas" and "tax." At the same time, legislators worked to undermine the recall by changing the rules in the middle of the game, passing a law to postpone the election by more than half a year.

In the face of these attacks on direct democracy, Californians turned to the courts to vindicate their constitutional rights. A Sacramento Superior County judge threw out the Attorney General's title for the gas tax initiative, calling it "misleading, confusing, and likely to create prejudice against the proposed measure." Another court nullified the bill that would have stopped the recall election – although, remarkably, the Legislature then passed a second bill to negate the court's decision, which may be the subject of new litigation.

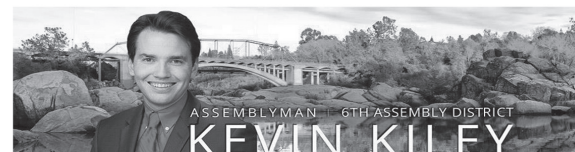

Grassroots mobilization has also stopped some new taxes from becoming law. As this year's legislative session drew to a close, a last-minute amendment slipped into a bill about grant disbursements would have levied new taxes on milk, fertilizer, and – for the first time ever – water. Citizens organized quickly and emphatically. My office alone received over 1,000 emails and phone calls. In the end, lawmakers shelved the bill.

This citizen activism was in part made possible by an important ballot measure approved by voters last year. The Legislature Transparency Act requires that a bill be available to the public for 72 hours before it is voted on, putting an end to the long-time practice of ramming bills through before anyone can even read them. At first, leaders in the Legislature tried to carry on with old habits and ignored this demand for public access, passing 89 bills in violation of the 72-hour requirement. But citizens pushed back, and with the support of every majority newspaper Editorial Board in the state (along with my own caucus in the Legislature), we succeeded in forcing legislative leaders to hold a re-vote on every bill passed unconstitutionally – this time with 72-hours' notice.

There's a clear lesson to draw from all of this. Californians are paying attention, and are ready to leverage the tools of direct democracy to make their voices heard. That is an encouraging sign, and after the most tax-heavy session in recent history, lawmakers in Sacramento must take notice.

Assemblyman Kevin Kiley represents the 6th Assembly District, which includes parts of El Dorado, Placer, and Sacramento counties.

SPEAKING FOR CHRISTIAN

If you met Christian Louis and were asked to describe him, you might say words like smart, funny, personable and handsome. As a successful high school student from a supportive family he seemed that he had a bright and promising future ahead of him, but on the evening of August 23, 2017, he took his own life at the age of 17. As his grieving family is left to wonder why, we know that he did not talk about any hardships he was facing with anyone and kept them deep inside. This is becoming more and more common in schools among young people every year. At this point in time, it seems everyone ranging in age from mid-teens into their late 20's seems to know someone in high school who had become a victim of teen suicide. I attended the candle light memorial with Christian's family and girlfriend, also attended by several school staff and hundreds of fellow students. Any one of us would have gladly lent an ear or a shoulder, the same said for my associates and friends that have heard the story and didn't know Christian personally. It was hard to comprehend at the time how a person could positively affect so many lives, yet feel so isolated and not reach out for help. Any hardship can be overcome, any situation can be resolved, it is always ok to ask for help.

When I asked what friends, family and the community can do to help them recover from such a devastating loss, Christian's family simply asked that we overcome our discomfort about discussing teen suicide with friends and family and open the door to conversation and bring light to this growing issue, and that it is never an option. Christian's family wishes that we spread the knowledge of resources and information, asking anyone in a time of need to reach out and talk to someone, call the Prevention Lifeline at 1-800-273-8255, or simply text the word "HOME" to 741741 and you will have someone right there in your hand to help you figure out ANY problem. Both the phone line and text line are available absolutely anywhere at any time of day. Parents, speak to your children about teen suicide and help them understand the true hardships that it brings on. If you notice a friend, a family member, loved one that has recently changed their outward behavior, or if you feel they are displaying any signs of depression or drawing inward, talk to them. Taking 5 minutes out of your day to speak to someone who is afraid to reach out might make all the difference;

Howl-o-Ween Harvest Festival Features Parade, Dogs, Brassie, Surprise Guest Citrus Heights Marching Band Event

A very special surprise guest will anchor the parade that will kick off the Howl-o-Ween Harvest Festival at 9 a.m. on Saturday, October 21st, in Citrus Heights. The parade will go down Auburn Boulevard, starting at Twin Oaks Avenue, and will end at Rusch Park where the Harvest Festival will be held from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. The park is located at 7801 Auburn Boulevard.

"We are excited to announce that a holiday icon who is currently vacationing in Hawaii has confirmed that he plans to stop off here to be in the parade before returning to his home up north – way up north," announced Kathy Cook, Program Director of the Citrus Heights Community Marching Band (CHCMB) that coordinates the annual Howl-o-Ween event.

In addition, the parade will include floats, the Keystone Cop Patrol, River City Ghost Diggers, antique and unique vehicles, queens and princesses, local dignitaries, lots of children and dogs, and the band.

The Harvest Festival with free admission will feature canine booths with dog treats, jewelry, and other goodies. SPCA will have a pet adoption booth and the City of Citrus Heights will sponsor a micro-chip service area. Other participants will include more than 50 craft vendors and martial arts, business, and food booths.

A popular attraction will be the Kids Zone with special Halloween games. "And our surprise guest says he will stop by to talk to the children," said Kathy Cook.

Entertainment will include performances by Citrus Heights Kaia Fit and the Golden State Accordion Club. CHCMB will play music from their "Fanfare for a New Era" that includes music from Star Wars, ET, Jurassic Park, Cadillac of the Skies, and the Land Race.

The Nor Cal Cruisers Car Club will have a display of unique automobiles and will donate proceeds from their car participants to the Citrus Heights Police Activities League (PAL) program.

On display will be Brassie the Brassaurus, a 7+-foot tall by 18-foot long musical instrument dinosaur. Although the main attractions at the Festival are 4-legged animals, Brassie is similar to the extinct Tyrannosaurus and is 2-legged.

The dinosaur was designed and built by Bill Cook, CHCMB's other Program Director. "We saw a picture of a dinosaur made out of tuba parts on Facebook and because we are using the Jurassic theme as our 2017 fanfare showpiece, we decided to build one . . . only we used old trumpets, baritones, trombones, one clarinet, and one flute as well as an 1880's tuba for Brassie," he said.

CHCMB is made up of 60 musicians, 9 flag carriers, and a drum major. A non-profit organization, the band raises funds with an annual spaghetti feed and the Howl-O-Ween event, at two major yard sales, and from community donations.

For information about participating in the Howl-o-Ween Parade and Harvest Festival or CHCMB membership and appearances, contact Kathy Cook at (916) 725-0198 or at abusycook@aol.com.

NEW HOME FOR THE LEARNING PATCH

Friends and Neighbors of Orangevale!

It is a pleasure to have been a part of the Orangevale community approaching 12 years! November 6, 2006 is our anniversary date. There is so much to share! However, with Thanksgiving around the corner, the first thing The Learning Patch Children's Center would like to share is our appreciation and gratitude for being a part of us and for allowing us to be a part of the community. Serving you and your children is considered a great privilege. The Learning Patch Children's Center began on Main Ave in the gray church building which served us well. The time was right to move on and we relocated to Margo Drive. You can wave to us from Starbucks on Madison as you get your morning coffee.

Caring for children has always been a passion for us. It's a passion for the teachers in our community that teach and care for our future. There are no words that come close to expressing gratitude to our teachers for the commitment, time and hard work given by them. There is a week in the year for this expression to them. I say that appreciation is an everyday event. Definitely, if it were not for our dedicated teachers and staff, The Learning Patch Children's Center would not have thrived. "It takes a village to raise our children". With that said, the support from our parents is beyond measure. Our parents are a big part of The Learning Patch Children's Center.

Through the years, we have had events and activities focused on our children such as the Trike-a-thon for Saint Jude, our Thanksgiving feast, to name a few, and this year a small Harvest Fest. This upcoming year, we are focusing on giving back to the community. After all, isn't the concept of giving one of the most important things our children should be taught? To lift one another up and to help our future succeed as positive contributors to our communities. This is what I've viewed in the Orangevale community. Thank you for the privilege of being a part of the Orangevale community! We hope to see you out there or better yet, come by and say Hello! We would love to meet you!

WORKING WITH AN AGENT BENEFITS YOU

One of the first decisions will you have to make when buying or selling a home is whether or not you'll hire a real estate agent. In nearly every case, the correct decision is to hire a qualified professional to help you during your property search and sale. Working with an agent has countless benefits, from providing you with financial advantages to ensuring that you have peace of mind throughout the entire buying or selling process.

*Real estate agents know the ins and outs of your target market.

An experienced real estate professional will know more about the different neighborhoods in an area than anyone else. They will know the general market trends of an area, letting you know if a particular property is a good deal or if its list price is too high for the area. They will also be able to offer insight on the area's schools, job market and community amenities.

When selling your home, your real estate agent will be able to market the property toward your demographic, helping you find more interested parties than you would have been able to find on your own. This can help to facilitate a quick sale at a good price.

*An agent will be able to set up showings on your behalf. If you're selling your home, you might not want to spend hours each day showing it to potential buyers. Your real estate agent will be able to book showings and show the home for you. They will be able to show your home while you are away, at work or even at your new home in another state.

If you are looking to buy a home, having an agent to set up appointments for you to explore properties can be a huge weight off your shoulders. Hiring a qualified real estate agent to help you buy or sell your home comes with countless benefits, including saving you time and money.

Orangevale Cooks

by Suzanne Feblowitz

I want to compliment the cook who grills yummy meals about 9 pm at night around Kenneth Avenue in Orangevale. The air is filled with delicious smells in the late evening as I am going to bed. I would love to have the recipe for your marinade or whatever you are grilling!

This week's recipe is from an internet search after I was trying to think of something to make for dinner using chicken tenderloins and the last of my cherry tomatoes, so I looked for a recipe with those ingredients. I found the perfect recipe on the "delish" website. It is easy to make and delicious, too.

If you would like to share a favorite recipe, please send a copy to Suzanne Feblowitz at the Orangevale View (editor@ovview.com). Be sure to include your phone number or email with your recipe in case we need to contact you. If you wish to remain anonymous, just let us know and we will omit your name.

CAPRESE CHICKEN

Ingredients

- 1 tbsp. extra-virgin olive oil
- 1 lb. boneless skinless

chicken breasts (chicken tenderloins work well, too)

- kosher salt
- Freshly ground black pepper
- 1/4 c. balsamic vinegar
- 2 cloves garlic, minced
- 1 pt. grape tomatoes, halved
- 2 tbsp. shredded fresh basil
- 4 slices mozzarella

Directions

1. In a large skillet over

- medium-high heat, heat oil.
 2. Season chicken with salt and pepper and cook until golden and cooked through, 6 minutes per side. Transfer to a plate.
 3. Add balsamic vinegar to skillet to deglaze, then add garlic and stir until fragrant, 1 minute. Add tomatoes and season with salt. Let simmer until soft, 5 to 7 minutes.
 4. Stir in basil.
 5. Return chicken to skillet and nestle in tomatoes. Top with mozzarella and cover with a lid to melt cheese.
 6. Spoon tomatoes over chicken and serve.
- This makes great leftovers, too!

Name: Hershey Age: 11 years
Sex: Female Breed: Shar-Pei mix

Adoption Fee : $100.00 or Free to seniors over 65 years old
It's safe to say that Hershey is a staff and volunteer favorite. Rightfully so, we have spent many months with this sweet, old girl. Hershey is extremely smart and a very fast learner. She knows how to sit, lay down, stay and can come when she is called! In the time we have spent with her, we have learned many important things about her, such as her love of tug-o-war and her desire to be the only furry friend in her new home. She is a senior, however, she is still very energetic and will need regular exercise and mental stimulation. Hershey has also proven herself to be very resilient, she has been adopted and returned multiple times in the last 7 months. due to urinary incontinence, which she is now on medication to control and strict, pesky landlord rules. She is now patiently waiting for a forever family that is ready to give her a loving and stable home as she lives out her golden years

Supervisor Sue Frost Invites You To Attend The Orangevale Building Blocks of Successful Commercial Districts

A Workshop for Business and Property
Owners, Community Leaders and Residents, Featuring:
Michele E. Reeves

Michele E. Reeves is an economic strategist with significant private sector experience revitalizing districts. Her qualifications, derived from over 16 years of work in various facets of real estate and economic development, include facilitating public/private partnerships, marketing unknown or undesirable districts, pre-development consulting, siting manufacturing facilities, strategizing acquisitions and development with private sector investors, and creating retail leasing plans. Michele founded Civilis Consultants to assist mixed-use districts and large public sector organizations to recognize and leverage their strengths, identify and accomplish economic development goals, and craft their unique stories to create compelling, multi-faceted brands. Michele has a bachelor's degree in aerospace engineering from the University of Texas at Austin.

Wednesday, November 1st 12:00pm – 5:00pm

Orangevale Community Center:
6826 Hazel Avenue - Orangevale

Join us at this FREE workshop.

■ Commercial districts with a strong sense of identity are more economically successful because they connect with their consumers emotionally and physically. Join us for this workshop on creating vibrant hubs of commerce and learn from real-world examples of commercial corridor success. Discover first-hand how Orangevale can leverage its unique assets, its existing buildings, its local businesses and its infrastructure to improve district brand and increase economic activity. We will be focusing on simple steps that can be implemented immediately for small sums of money to increase traffic and sales per square foot.

RSVP:

Tina Barclay: 916-874-5491

ORANGEVALE LIBRARY, 8820 GREENBACK BLVD, SUITE L, ORANGEVALE.

Family Storytime - Babies, toddlers, preschoolers from 0-5 years along with their caregivers are invited to join us for songs, rhymes, and stories designed to build early literacy skills. You can find this program every Thursday @ 10:30 AM at Orangevale Library, 8820 Greenback Blvd, Suite L, Orangevale.

Harry Potter Party - It's time to cast a spell and explore an afternoon of Harry Potter magic. Please leave your broomsticks at the door and keep your wands at the ready! Young witches, wizards, and muggles will be treated to an afterschool event of games, activities, and magical fun. Please feel free to come dressed as your favorite character. All ages are welcome. Thursday, October 26th from 3:30 PM to 5 PM at Orangevale Library, 8820 Greenback Blvd, Suite L, Orangevale.

Adult Book Club - Join us for a discussion of this month's book: "Darkly Dreaming Dexter" by Jeff Lindsay and pick up your copy of our next book, "Stolen Beauty" by Laurie R. King. From the dawn of the twentieth century to the devastation of World War II, this exhilarating novel of love, war, art, and family gives voice to two extraordinary women and brings to life the true story behind the creation and near destruction of Gustav Klimt's most remarkable paintings. Impeccably researched and a "must-read for fans of Kristin Hannah's The Nightingale and Paula McLain's Circling the Sun" (Christina Baker Kline, #1 New York Times bestselling author), Stolen Beauty intertwines the tales of two remarkable women across more than a hundred years. Pick up your copy today. New members are always welcome! Saturday, October 28th from 1:30 PM - 2:30 PM at Orangevale Library, 8820 Greenback Blvd, Suite L, Orangevale.

LEGOs and More - Build it! Join us for free play with Legos, Lincoln Logs and Citiblocks. Whether you are a building expert or a building novice we've got you covered. Tuesday, October 31st from 3:30 PM to 5:30 PM at Orangevale Library, 8820 Greenback Blvd, Suite L, Orangevale.

Mixed Media Art Journaling - Use your imagination and all kinds of mixed media to create a free-style art journal.

Both inexperience and lack of talent are welcome! The Friends of the Orangevale Library have graciously provided art journals and supplies to create a place for creativity to unfold. Please note, supplies are limited so feel free to bring your own too. You can find this program on the first Saturday of every month @ 10:30 AM at Orangevale Library, 8820 Greenback Blvd, Suite L, Orangevale.

Fall Festival - Welcome to our Fall Festival! There will be four game and craft centers that include working with leaves, acorns, twigs, and pine cones. Apple Cider and snacks will be served. All ages welcome! Provided with generous support from the Friends of the Orangevale Library! Thursday, November 9th from 3:00 PM to 4:30 PM at Orangevale Library, 8820 Greenback Blvd, Suite L, Orangevale.

Bugs! Bugs! Bugs! - Do you like creepy crawly, colorful, and icky bugs in person? Do you want to learn more about the study of bugs also known as entomology? Then come meet Jeff from the Bohart Museum to hear a short presentation about bugs and get a chance to explore many bugs afterwards! Everyone is welcome. Provided with generous support from the Friends of the Orangevale Library! Tuesday, November 14th from 4:00 PM to 5:00 PM at Orangevale Library, 8820 Greenback Blvd, Suite L, Orangevale.

Read to a Dog - Come read to some pawesome pooches! School-age readers are invited to read to furry and friendly canine volunteers and their trainers. You can find this program on the 3rd Friday of every month from 3 PM to 4 PM at Orangevale Library, 8820 Greenback Blvd, Suite L, Orangevale.

Getting To Know You: A Genealogy Program for adults - Do you need help with researching your family's history? Orangevale Library's volunteer genealogists are available to assist you. Learn the basics, try new resources, and share discoveries with a group of time detectives. There's always something new to learn on a genealogy adventure. Space is limited, so register TODAY! Saturday, November 18th from 2:00 PM to 4:00 PM at Orangevale Library, 8820 Greenback Blvd, Suite L, Orangevale.

COMMUNITY SPOTLIGHT

VOLUNTEERS PLANT 30 TREES AT OVPARKS DISC GOLF COURSE

THE ORANGEVALE Recreation & Park District with the help of Final 9 Sports and the Shady Oaks Disc Golf Club planted 30 native oak trees on October 14, 2017 at the Orangevale Community Park Shady Oaks Disc Golf Course. Bruce and Jenny Knisley, owners of the Final 9 Sports Disc Golf Pro Shop came up with the planting concept for course sustainability and to enhance the fairways. Trees and stakes were donated by the Sacramento Tree Foundation. OVparks staff assisted by helping organize the planting, pre-digging the holes, and by installing water bags to help insure the long-term success of the trees. Twenty-eight volunteers came out to help plant. Nelson Kirk from the OVparks staff started the day by giving a tree planting demonstration. After the trees were planted and staked, Final 9 Sports sponsored a lunch as a thank you to volunteers and to help celebrate their 20th Anniversary as a business in Orangevale. The years of beauty, shade, and oxygen will be enjoyed by Orangevale residents and visitors for decades to come. Many thanks to everyone that contributed to the successful planting.
