Colorfully painted “Orangevale Rocks” rocks have been mysteriously appearing throughout town on atop signs, on park benches, drive-through coffee counters and elsewhere to promote what is shaping up to be the largest volunteer public service event in Orangevale history.

The rocks are being painted and then placed in public places in connection with the May 5 “Big Day of Service” in Orangevale and Fair Oaks. Hundreds of participants will pursue public service projects throughout the communities that day ranging from tree planting and installing free smoke detectors; to planting trees or distributing high-risk maternity care packages. Project teams will also wander through the community committing random acts of kindness. More than 250 participants have already contribute in large and small ways to their community.”

The promotional rock effort is somewhat like a community game. Organizers hope people who find one of the rocks will take its photo, share it on either the Orangevale Happenings or Big Day of Service Facebook page, then move it to another location for someone else to find.

Creation of a painted rock garden at Orangevale’s Pecan Park is one of the event’s many planned projects. “Painting rocks promotes joy, encouragement, empathy and more,” said Ellen Vigna, who is leading the project. “Once the rock garden is established, community members can come and leave a painted rock, take a painted rock or both.” The Big Day of Service will begin with a pancake breakfast and feature a daylong ‘Give and Receive’ Community Resource Fair where opportunities to receive services will be accompanied by ways to give back to the community. For example, a person might get a free haircut then spend some time writing postcards to deployed military troops; or volunteer at one of the many community resource booths. A variety of no-cost services will be available, from dental hygienist treatments to food distribution, and there will be booths with representatives from many community-minded organizations available to answer questions or consider volunteers.

signed up, but more are needed. Community organizations of people interested in participating can choose a project from a list and sign up at <https://www.bigdayofservice.com/communityservice>.

Event organizers report that they have raised thousands of dollars from civic organizations, businesses, churches and individuals to finance the event.

“The idea is to have an event where people can feel the joy of serving others and their community,” said Brad Squires, director of the Fair Oaks and Orangevale Community Foundation. “We hope to provide many kinds of opportunities for participants to

SAFETY SCARE AT CASA

SAFETY SCARE AT CASA ROBLE, FROM A MOTHER'S PERSPECTIVE.

By Kristen Tarrell, registered nurse and mother of 4 Casa Roble students

We are all on high alert. The violence in our country rages on. The recent events in a Florida high school and the arrest of an Oakmont student gives me pause every day my youngest daughter goes to school. I am secretly glad she is graduating this spring. But graduation will not protect her.

What happened at Casa Roble in February just shows how fearful we are. Rumors can be dangerous. Action without communication feeds doubt. Social media fuels the fire. A lock-down drill rescheduled due to the horrible Florida tragedy was coincidentally rescheduled to this particular week. And, the balance between investigation and notification is a very fine line that, if crossed at the wrong time, could begin a sequelae of events no one could possibly predict.

I have to admit, I participated in the frenzy. I held my daughter from school last Friday, posted to Facebook, contacted the administration at Casa and sent e-mails to community leaders. I did what I felt was appropriate in this situation. I was frustrated that something so serious was being "ignored" and the normal daily onslaught of automated Casa e-mails and phone calls fell silent. Although my husband spoke with a Casa VP on Friday, I was not placated.

On Monday, the same VP called me. Today was for "damage control". We ran through the series of events and shared what we knew from an administrator's and a mother's vantage point. We agreed that in order to succeed our kids need to feel safe at school. I was given a great opportunity to share my feelings and ideas for possible changes. I was also assured that the lock-down drill, which happened during this tumultuous week was completely successful. The campus and all students/staff were secure within a couple of minutes.

What I learned from this conversation is that safety is a priority. Casa Roble administration and staff worked closely with the Sacramento Sheriff's Department to secure the safety of the campus. Thorough and timely onsite and home investigations proved there was NO THREAT. There was "nothing" to report to the parents. But herein lies the problem, and the quandary. How far do we go, and how do we respond to something that is so scary and unpredictable?

The administration is responding by speaking with parents and community members about their thoughts and ideas. They will continue to routinely evaluate the safety procedures, the guidelines for appropriate communication to the parents, and the success of each safety drill performed. Appropriate changes and improvements will be implemented expeditiously. Parents and community members should also do their due diligence to be prepared. It takes a village to raise a child and keep a child safe. Orangevale is such a "village". We all should:

- Talk to our children about their fears and questions.
- Teach them always be alert to their surroundings and where to find safe spaces.
- Give them resources of who, when and where to report something unusual.
- Teach them how to respond in the most reasonable way to protect their life when an active shooter is nearby. (see Department of Homeland Security website for info)
- Provide them how to provide first aid.
- Participate with our kids in community and school programs that raise awareness.

To this I applaud Casa Roble administration, staff, students and parents. Never in California have I lived in an area so bound by a sense of community. Everyone is family, and everyone matters. Thank you for the conversations and actions that make this a better place for children to grow and learn, for families to flourish, and people to become life-long friends. Now let's move past this event and do better the next time we are faced with such a "scare".

artists. No, those sturdy souls most likely believed they were simply "housewives" or "spinsters" making bed coverings to keep loved ones warm.

Yet, the genius of these creative trailblazers shines through. Each artifact left behind provides a testimony to the person who created it, and to the talent she used to combine color, design, and texture.

A remarkable collection of pre-Civil War era quilts, along with many others from the Victorian era and into the 1930s, is currently on display at the Folsom History Museum.

These vintage works are from private collections.

All are museum quality, represent their eras well, and are worth a crafter's – or a collector's – time.

The large selection of quilts on loan from the collection of Carol and Skip Gebel is significant. The Gebel collection represents many of the different styles of quilts children ages six to 17, and free for kids five and younger. The Folsom History Museum is located at 823 Sutter Street in the city's Historic District neighborhood. Visit folsomhistoricalsociety.org to discover more.

Meet Steve-o!

Name: Steve-O
Breed: Basenji mix
Color: Black and Brown Brindle
Age: 7 years old
Sex: Male

Steve-O is a bundle of fun energy. He is not only a great little walker but loves to give hugs. Isn't that adorable? He is a lap dog too and at 27 lbs., he can still squirm his way into your lap.

His owner could not take care of him anymore because of health reasons, so Steve-O would like to be the one and only dog in his new home to get all of your attention and might be better with older kids. He is housetrained, knows sit, stay and lay down.

He will also stand on his hind legs and wave his front paws or "talk" to get your attention. He's just a darling.

Adoption fee: $110
Secondary Topic: Because Steve-O is over 5 years old, he qualifies for our Senior to Senior program. We will waive his adoption fee if the adopter is 65 years or older.

5 Big Curb Appeal Mistakes When Selling

Your Home

If you're planning to sell your house this season, there's several common mistakes to keep in mind when maximizing your home's curb appeal. The first impression buyers get from your house can make or break a sale, so it's imperative that you keep the outside nice and neat. Before you put your house on the market, make sure you've dealt with these 5 exterior issues.

1. Neglecting Curb Appeal

The first mistake sellers make when listing their house for sale is forgetting about curb appeal. A clean yard shows buyers you care for your home. Staging the outside of your house is just as important as staging the inside to make a good first impression.

2 Forgetting About the Landscape

Don't skimp on the landscaping when you list your home. By taking the time to water grass, trim hedges and plant flowers, you'll spruce up your curb appeal. Spend a day picking up fallen leaves and branches to please buyers by making your yard look well-groomed and vibrant.

3 Dealing with Limited Light

Be sure to utilize adequate lighting. Given that your walkway and front entrance should always be lit up at dusk, invest in fixtures to brighten up the landscape. A new lighting system will change the way potential buyers perceive your home and show them you've updated the place.

4. Letting the Paint Peel

Do a fresh paint job before putting your house on the market. When you take the time to paint your door, shingles and trim, you'll boost your house's curb appeal without spending a lot of money. A polished exterior can go a long way, so perk up your place and watch the offers roll in.

5. Keeping Clutter in the Yard

And finally, spend a day picking up toys, hoses, shoes and more in the yard. Your home will make a better impression on buyers. Your driveway and sidewalk should also be clear of obstacles, so it's easy for potential buyers to peruse your property.

ORANGEVALE COMMUNITY MEETING

March 13, 2018 Sacramento County Sheriff's Department Orangevale Community Meeting

Representatives from the North Division reported on the latest community updates and invited audience questions, concerns, and feedback. A few highlights:

Sergeant Massagli, Problem Oriented Policing (POP): NorthPOP@sacsheriff.com

The POP Team works with the worst violent criminals in Sacramento utilizing traditional law enforcement techniques. As an example, the POP team is often called to apartment buildings where the residents are dealing with gangs, drug sales, and property crimes.

Deputies Knacke and Purser, Homeless Outreach Team (HOT): NorthHOT@sacsheriff.com

-Reported on recent camp clean-up and noted that the U-Haul has been removed from the Cable Park Shopping Center.

-The HOT unit works with a two-prong approach: Combining outreach and connecting to services with enforcement. To bring these services to our community, it is important to report any homeless person you see via e-mail.

Deputy Grassmann and Sergeant Hatch, Community Outreach Team:

-The Community Outreach Team is currently working on connecting internal and external communications with a customer service oriented focus.

-Social Media: www.facebook.com/SacSheriff | twitter.com/sacsheriff Public Service Announcements (PSAs) are being developed and real-time updates will soon be posted to Twitter. For example: Check Twitter if you hear, but cannot understand, the message from a Sacramento Sheriff's helicopter.

-Website updates are in progress: www.sacsheriff.com

Deputy Zalec, Investigative Service Department, Rio Consumnes Correctional Center (RCCC):

The RCCC facility in Elk Grove has minimum, medium, and maximum security units; typically has 1600 - 2600 inmates, 17% of which are women; and runs a number of re-entry education and training programs such as GED preparation, engraving, kitchen services, welding, and wild horse training.

Contacting the Sacramento County Sheriff's Department:

Emergency: 911 or 916-874-5111 | Non-Emergency: 916-874-5115 Lieutenant Mary Reyes, North Division Operations Commander:

-When you call 911 from a cell phone, you may get connected to CHP or the Sacramento Sheriff's Department—it all depends on where you are calling from.

-It is a good idea to program the emergency number (916-874-5111) in your cell phone to ensure you can reach the Sacramento Sheriff's Department dispatchers in an emergency.

-The hold times may be long if a lot of people are calling about the same incident at the same time, but will be the same no matter if you call from a cell phone or landline.

-When calling either emergency number, please stay on the line and do not hang up-- if you hang up and call back you will go back to the end of the queue.

Meeting Information:

Sacramento County Sheriff's Department Orangevale Community Meetings are held at 6:00 PM at the Orangevale Community Center on the second Tuesday of January, March, May, September, and November. The next Sacramento County Sheriff Orangevale Community Meeting will be on Tuesday, May 8, 2018 at 6:00 PM at the Orangevale Community Center.

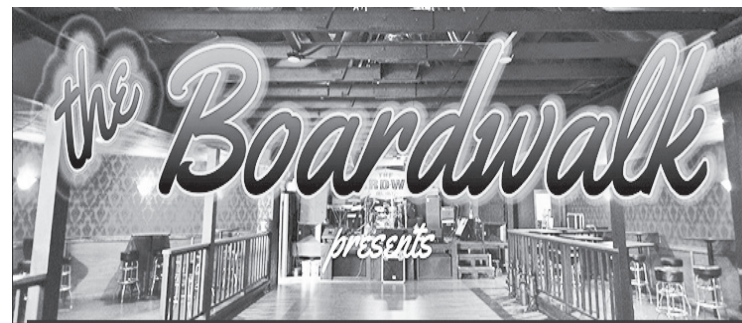

Confirming Meeting information:

-In the event of a community meeting cancellation, the information will be posted to the Sacramento Sheriff social media and Next Door: <https://nextdoor.com/agency-detail/ca/sacramento/sacramento-county-sheriffs-department/>

-To confirm meeting dates and times, you can call the Orangevale Community Center: 916-988-4373

Orangevale Cooks

by Suzanne Febowitz

A few weeks ago at my niece's baby shower, I enjoyed stuffed bell peppers for the first time! Originally, stuffed bell peppers have not been a favorite dish, but the funny thing is that this recipe is the one that I had tasted many years ago. The recipe is from my mother-in-law's file of favorites, but it has been altered through the years by her children and grandchildren. As I am always looking for quick dishes, this one is very easy and it makes great leftovers!

If you would like to share a favorite recipe, please send a copy to Suzanne Febowitz at the Orangevale View (editor@ovview.com). Be sure to include your phone number or email with your recipe in case we need to contact you. If you wish to remain anonymous, just let us know and we will omit your name.

Edna's Bell Peppers (Suzanne's Version)

1 lb ground beef
 Rice (3/4 cup uncooked) - you need about 2 cups cooked rice
 Small onion, diced
 3 bell peppers
 1 can condensed tomato soup
 Water (1/4 cup)
 Salt
 Pepper
 Cajun Seasoning (optional)
 Cheese, shredded (mix of mozzarella and cheddar or your choice)

Prepare rice as directed on package. While rice is cooking prepare other ingredients.

Bring a large pot of salted water to a boil. Cut and clean 3 bell peppers length wise from stem to butt. Remove seeds and stem and cook peppers in boiling water for 5- 10 minutes; drain. Set aside.

In a large skillet, sauté beef and onions for 5 minutes, or until beef is browned. Drain off excess fat, and season with salt, pepper and a dash of Cajun seasoning. Stir in the tomato soup, and cooked rice. You decide how much rice you want. Add some water if it seems a thick.

Fill each bell pepper half with the mixture. Place in a baking dish that has been prepared with a non-stick cooking spray. Cook in a 350 degree oven for 20 minutes or until warm through and cheese is melted.

This serves 4 or 3 with lunch leftovers!

Notes: We had extra meat, so you could probably use 4 bell peppers. I used the colored bell peppers because they were more appetizing to me, but green is fine! I added the Cajun seasoning because I thought it needed a bit more flavor.

Mary Kruger, an Orangevale resident since 1995 is one of the States Best Loser's! She is being honored at the TOPS State meeting in Visalia in June 2018 as the TOPS State Division winner. Mary is a retired Acct. Tech from Mather Air Force Base and has been a TOPS member since 2001. When Mary joined TOPS she weighed 315 lbs. Since then she has lost 120 lbs. HONORING LOCAL BUSINESS

Local businesses and guests gathered for an evening filled with celebrations! On February 24, 2017 the Orangevale View announced the winners of the Best of Orangevale competition to a sold out crowd at the Orangevale Community Center.

This 2nd annual event is held for the sole purpose of allowing the public to select a business, organization or person to rein in a category as the "BEST OF ORANGEVALE" for one year. Several of the winners were previous winners in 2016. Awards were presented by Assemblyman Kiley and Supervisor Frost.

Each winner was given a window cling to place at their store front or business location for all to see. So when you are out and about look for the BEST OF ORANGEVALE logo.

The long-awaited, daring, and magnificent novel from the Pulitzer Prize-winning author of A Visit from the Goon Squad. Manhattan Beach opens in Brooklyn during the Great Depression. Anna Kerrigan, nearly twelve years old, accompanies her father to the house of Dexter Styles, a man who, she gleans, is crucial to the survival of her father and her family. Years later, her father has disappeared and the country is at war. Anna works at the Brooklyn Naval Yard, where women are allowed to hold jobs that had always belonged to men. She becomes the first female diver, the most dangerous and exclusive of occupations, repairing the ships that will help America win the war. She is the sole provider for her mother, a farm girl who had a brief and glamorous career with the Ziegfeld Follies, and her lovely, severely disabled sister. At a nightclub, she chances to meet Dexter Styles again, and she begins to understand the complexity of her father's life, the reasons he might have vanished. Mesmerizing, hauntingly beautiful, with the pace and atmosphere of a noir thriller, Egan's first historical novel is a masterpiece, a deft, startling, intimate exploration of a transformative moment in the lives of women and men, America and the world. Manhattan Beach is a spectacular novel by one of the greatest writers of our time"-lc Provided by publisher. BOY SCOUT TROOP 134 COLLECTS AND DELIVERS FOOD TO THOSE IN NEED!

Scouts, parents and leaders from Troop 134 and the Golden Empire Council collected food donations from within their Folsom community to help those in need on Saturday, March 10th. The scouts canvassed the neighborhoods a week prior, posting door hangars on doors of the neighborhoods asking for the donations. The scouts collected the non-perishable food items and delivered them to St. Vincent de Paul Food Closet in Folsom.

In total, the troop collected, delivered and sorted about 700 food items. "Scouting For Food is an annual event that all scout troops within the council participate in. It is important for the scouts to get involved within their community and fulfill the Scout Law," stated Josh Baker, Scoutmaster for Troop 134. Through this project, the Boy Scouts demonstrated how they can be helpful, friendly, courteous and kind: all points of the Scout Law. To find out more information about how you can donate to the St. Vincent de Paul Food Closet, call 916-985-4630.
