ORANGEVALE WALMART GIVES BACK WITH #HYDRATE BLUE!

ORANGEVALE – Local Walmart staff hosted a #Hydrateblue event, earlier this month awarding the Sacramento County Sheriff's department and their Explorer youth representatives with a pallet of water, blue Walmart ice chests and a check for $2500.

Explorer spokesperson DeVante Huston thanked Walmart for their generous donation which supports a variety of program expenses including uniforms, special events like "Shop with a Cop", leadership training and other Explorer events.

The funds, which are part of the Walmart Foundation grant program, are part of $1 billion in cash and in kind to support programs that align with their philanthropic priorities. Way to go Walmart!

TEA DUELING SUMMER FUN AT NAUTILUS TEA COMPANY

By Thomas J. Sullivan

Tucked in a corner of the Almond Orchard Shopping Center at 11771 Fair Oaks Boulevard in Fair Oaks, Nautilus Tea Company provides the perfect comforting atmosphere for sipping the right cup of hot or iced tea either while visiting with friends or enjoying your own company.

In summer months, Nautilus is home to the noble sport of tea dueling, which requires audience participation, honor, the proper cookie or biscuit and of course, piping hot tea.

You mean you've never heard of tea dueling? It's all in the way the cookie crumbles or preferably doesn't.

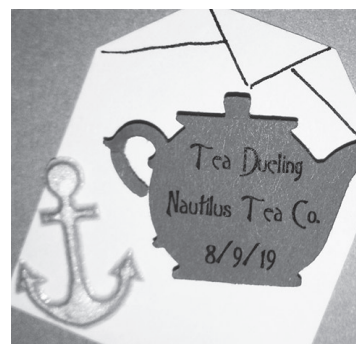

Tea dueling is the graceful art of dunking a tea biscuit into a "cup of brown joy," soaking it for five seconds, and then gently lifting it - all without dripping tea, losing biscuit fragments into the tea, or on the table, and then successfully "nomming" it - eating it cleanly - and doing so after your fellow duelist has watched their own cookie crumble.

The delicious preferred weapon of choice is a Pepperidge Farm Chessmen butter cookie.

In preliminary rounds, each seated tea duelist holds their soggy cookie at an angle of their choosing, and proceeds into a battle of wits, will, and nerve. In later rounds, the the merriment begins, as each duelist tests their concentration to rise from their seat while continuing to hold the cookie still without crumbling while a number of challenging physical tasks.

For the past four years, Nautilus has proudly hosted its summer tea dueling competition leading to the award of a championship belt in September.

A reminder that while tea dueling sounds easy, once the cookie or biscuit of choice has been submerged in hot tea it does want to immediately fall apart. In competition, against veteran duelist Pat Lugo, aka "Tenacious P,"

I didn't last the first round. Nautilus Tea Company, opened in 2014, and which employs 5 tea baristas, is a family affair owned by Tonja and Mike Tallent. Their son Nathan, a junior at Bella Vista High School is one of several friendly tea baristas you find behind their counter. It's a classic tea Bar that offers origin tea by the cup or pot, tea beverages such as tea lattes and chai lattes, tea in bulk and accessories.

The former micro marine biologist believes tea is an experience to be savored and shared. She opted for a career change in 2012 and by 2013 started looking at commercial real estate vacancies in the area to open a tea bar. A space in the Almond Orchard Shopping Center in Fair Oaks proved the perfect choice.

"It's a tea bar that I would whenever possible,” she said. Nautilus Tea Company also serves cookies and scones that are baked in house, and croissants obtained from a local bakery. “We also offer gluten-free cookies from a local gluten-free bakery,” she said.

want to go to. I prefer tea to coffee, I just couldn’t find a tea bar like Nautilus in our area,” she said.

Nautilus is founded on the idea that there is more to tea than hot water and tea leaves.

Both husband and wife are long-time science fiction fans. The perfect spiral of the Nautilus seashell, and a nod to writer Jules Verne made the choice of a business name an easy one. The tea bar opened in the site of a former dry-cleaning shop, was colorfully repainted in a blue nautical theme.

In all, Nautilus features 70 different teas to choose from, including but not limited to, black, green, oolong and white. Special blends include fruity, floral, earthy, smoky and many other flavor profiles. The store carries a complete line of tea accessories including strainers, infusers, filters and scoops to help any novice tea lover to easily get started on their tea journey.

“While our main focus is tea, we do serve a French Press coffee and occasionally, an over-night cold drip coffee,” Tallent said. “We buy our teas from local vendors whenever possible, and from a direct importer when needed,” she said.

Some teas are sourced from various locations such as Japan, India, China, Nepal and Sri Lanka.

“When we blend our own teas, our flavor ingredients are sourced locally

The tea bar hosts special events throughout the year including its popular monthly Tea Dueling from February through September. Watch for its annual Mys-Tea-ry event in October.

February will mark the return of its annual Valentine Gathering and May will feature its Mother’s Day Formal Tea. “We can also host small private gatherings such as birthday, anniversary, bridal, and baby showers. These generally can be arranged with advance notice,” she said.

Throughout the year, Nautilus offers what it calls “Novel-Teas”: special drinks made from a touch of imagination containing one or more teas and various combinations of milk, soda water and/or flavored syrups. Just don’t ask for boba tea. It’s not on the menu.

In a marketplace where coffee shops abound, Nautilus Tea Company is active on social media, a considerable amount of new walk-in business has come from first-time tea drinkers who pick up a drink menu posted outside. “We literally go through hundreds of copies a week,” she said. “The names and variety of our teas attract their interest.”

Popular black teas include apricot brandy, black currant, black pomegranate, blackberry mango, blue flower Earl Grey, Burning Sun, chocolate, creme brulee, summer Darjeeling, English Breakfast, Himalayan Golden, Queens Blend, Russian Caravan, and Keemum. Consider a choice among seven different oolong teas including Anna-purna Amber – from Nepal infused with apricot and muscat grape flavors; Blue Beauty – greener oolong from the Fujian province with leaves sprinkled with ginseng and licorice root; brandy Oolong – Taiwanese oolong, smooth with hints of honey, and floral/stone fruit aroma and rhu-barb Oolong

“Sometimes we experiment and come up with new creations that end up on our menu,” she said. Give “Nemo Tuxedo” a try. It’s a playful mix of chocolate tea, vanilla syrup, and your choice of milk, and its available in a sugar-free version. Summer selections include “Purple Rain”, in honor of His Royal Purple-ness, and “Crimson Peak”, a playful combination of hibiscus and vanilla teas with a shot of almond and a sprinkle of red sugar “footsteps” on some milk-foam “snow”.

When in doubt, just ask a Nautilus “tea-mate” for their recommendation if you’re looking to try a new flavor. They’ll fit you to a “tea.”

Nautilus Tea Company is located at 11771 Fair Oaks Boulevard in Fair Oaks, in the Almond Orchard Shopping Center.

Store hours are Tuesday through Thursday, noon to 6 p.m.; Friday 10 a.m. to 9 p.m., Saturday 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. and Sunday 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Closed on Mondays. Phone: (916) 542-1832 or email: info@nautliustea.com. Visit their store at www.nautliustea.com/shoptea to place an online order. All bulk tea sales are final.

CASA RAMS LAUNCH 2019 SEASON WITH A BIG RALLY AND A BIG WIN!

Casa Roble High School students packed the stands for their annual pre-game rally in their newly remodeled stadium. Rally commissioners Alex and Mason fired up the student body and Chick Fil A was on hand to award a gift basket to a lucky student who won the field goal challenge.

Later that night the Casa Rams kicked off their 2019 season against local rival Bella Vista Broncos at Bella Vista on their new field bringing home victories in all three games. The freshman team started the winning streak on Thursday night 34 -13, JV continued the momentum on Friday 24 - 12 and Varsity dominated the night finishing 55 -15.

"I'm extremely proud of our boys and their performance," said Head Coach Chris Horner. "The season opener victory is sweet, but we have lots of work to do. I'm looking forward to a great season."

The Casa Rams host their first home game against Rio Linda on August 30 in their first rematch since the conference championship last season. Best of luck to the Casa Rams!

REJECTED IN 2018, RENT CONTROL STILL WON'T WORK IN 2020

Supervisor Sue Frost

Rejected In 2018, Rent Control Still Won't Work in 2020
By Sacramento County Supervisor Sue Frost

Last November, California voters went to the polls and voted overwhelmingly to reject the Local Rent Control Initiative (Prop. 10). I was one of the only local elected officials in our region who was publicly outspoken in my opposition to Prop. 10, and rejoiced when it was defeated. Apparently the issue did not die with Prop. 10, because its backers are trying a “redo” in 2020 with a modified version that is just as fundamentally flawed as its predecessor. Due to this, I want to take this opportunity to explain to you the history of rent control in California, how the 2020 version differs from the 2018 version, and why I am vehemently opposed to both versions.

Put simply, rent control is when the government tells property owners how much rent they can charge each year. Local municipalities were allowed to create any form of rent control they wanted until the state passed the Costa Hawkins Rental Housing Act in 1995, preventing rent control restrictions from applying to single-family homes, condos, or apartment buildings built after 1995.

Finding these limits too constraining, an effort was made in 2018 in the form of Prop. 10 to remove the 1995 law, in a move that would have once again allowed local municipalities, like Sacramento County, to pass strict rent control measures on new construction. The 2020 proposition is slightly different, in that it allows local municipalities to pass rent control on any building that was built over 15 years ago. This means that housing constructed in 2020 could have rent control imposed on it in 2035, housing constructed in 2021 could have rent control imposed on it in 2036, and so on.

Both propositions suffer from the same misguided notion that renters are better off with more rent control. Economists across the world, as well as anyone with a basic understanding of economics, understand that this is simply not the case. While rent control does help affordability in the short run for current tenants, in the long-run it decreases rent inventory and affordability, fuels gentrification, and creates blight in the surrounding neighborhood.

Rent control laws massively slow down home building, and in many cases landlords convert their properties to different uses entirely. The laws of supply and demand would tell you that new housing construction is the key to keeping housing affordable, not rent control. Supporters of rent control should carefully review the rent control policies in areas like San Francisco and Los Angeles, and seriously ask themselves if they would consider either of those two cities affordable.

In places where there is a demand for more housing, a more effective policy is to simply build more housing. Instead of penalizing property owners, we should consider policies that offer tax incentives to property owners who keep rents low. And we should consider allowing housing projects to get the same environmental exemptions that sports facilities get.

I do not have all the answers; however, it is clear to me that we cannot continue to create policies that sound good on paper but actually make the situation significantly worse.

Thank you for reading – and as always, if you want to contact me call me at 916-874-5491, or e-mail me at SupervisorFrost@saccounty.net.

Orangevale Cooks

by Suzanne Feblowitz

This is the time of year where some of us have an abundance of tomatoes in our gardens. This recipe is perfect for those of you who have a few extra tomatoes. It is a combination of recipes: one that I found in the Sacramento Bee several years ago and another from one that my mother uses. This dish is best eaten on the day you make it, but it will also make a nice lunch or leftovers the following day, too.

We would love some new recipes, so if you have any recipes, please send them to Suzanne Feblowitz at the Orangevale View (editor@ov-view.com). Be sure to include your phone number or email address in case we need to contact you. If you wish to remain anonymous, just let us know and we will omit your name

PASTA SALAD WITH FRESH TOMATOES AND BASIL

6-8 medium sized garden fresh tomatoes, cored and diced

4-5 tablespoons olive oil

1 teaspoon oregano

2 tablespoons fresh chopped

4 cloves garlic, chopped

4 oz. fresh basil, chopped (I get a basil plant at Trader Joes and use that!)

1/3 cup feta cheese

1/3 cup pine nuts, toasted

2 tablespoons balsamic vinegar (optional)

1 pound penne pasta, cooked
Prepare pasta. While the pasta is cooking, warm the oil in a large skillet. Turn the heat to low and add the tomatoes, oregano, parsley, and garlic. Stir gently and cook for about 5-7 minutes on low. You are basically just letting the flavors come together. When everything still looks fresh and things start smelling delicious, add the basil and mix in gently. Finally, add the vinegar and mix in, and then remove from heat.

Put pasta in a serving dish. Pour the warm tomato mixture over the pasta. Mixture should not be hot. If it is hot, allow to cool. When cool, toss with the feta and pine nuts. Serve as a main dish or as a side dish. Serve warm or cool.

Note: You can adjust the amount of ingredients after you make the recipe. I probably use more tomatoes, feta cheese and pine nuts than noted above.

My sister doesn't like feta cheese, so she uses shaved parmesan cheese.

ADOPTION FEE WAIVED!!

Name: Serena
Age: 7 years
Breed: Siamese Mix
Sex: Female/spayed

Adoption Fee: Serena's adoption fee has been generously sponsored by Mark M. Glickman.

Meet Serena! This gorgeous Siamese Mix has beautiful blue eyes and striking markings. Part of her ear is missing, giving her an even more unique look! She is very friendly and will often come right out to chirp hello when someone approaches her kitty condo. She also purred the entire time her photo was being taken and will even drool a little when she's getting particularly good pets!

Posey, born approximately September 2017, is a striking tortie - look at those orange eyes! This kitty is not restful. (In her photo, she is perturbed because she was asked to hold still for a second!) She is active and always on the go. She looks for opportunities to escape to the great outdoors so she needs a home on a very quiet street/cul-de-sac because we do not think she will be happy as an indoor-only kitty. When she does escape, she soon wants back in for some attention.

She has had at least one litter that we know of which explains her gently tackling a four-month old kitten she just met in hopes he would play with her. With very young kittens, she turns maternal. She is purry, friendly, curious. She gets along with other adult kitties just fine.

She will be at the Fair Oaks Petco (on Madison, at Hazel, in the Raley's Shopping Center) from noon to 4 p.m. every Saturday and Sunday (with many other kitties) until she is adopted. For more information, please call Lisa J at 916 524-4478.

ORANGEVALE GROCERY OUTLET CELEBRATES FIRST ANNIVERSARY

By Thomas J. Sullivan

Husband and wife Austin and Chioma Chuks-Orji of Orangevale celebrated the first anniversary of their Grocery Outlet store at 8835 Greenback Lane on Saturday, August 24th.

"I can't believe it's already been a year," said Chuks-Orji. "We would like to thank all of our customers and the community of Orangevale for making our first year a very successful one," he said.

Their store is on the site of a vacant Lucky's/Savemart grocery store. A Goodwill store is nearby.

"It's been a joy getting to know all of our new customers," he said. "Our sales here have grown steadily since we opened and we've met our first-year expectations," he said.

Chuks-Orji had worked in the grocery industry for over 15 years before completing Grocery Outlet's owner-operator training program. His family moved to Orangevale with their two young children from San Francisco's East Bay where he was often a frequent shopper at Grocery Outlet's Berkeley and Oakland stores.

In the retail grocery trade, and strongly supported by television advertising, Grocery Outlet is one of the largest opportunistic buyers of grocery items in the nation. When a brand has excess inventory from packaging changes or manufacturing overruns, Grocery Outlet buys these excess products for pennies on the dollar, passing the savings on consumers. Each local store owner then chooses products from Grocery Outlet's inventory that their customers will love the most, personalizing each store's selection to its local community.

Grocery Outlet Bargain Market is one of the largest extreme-value grocery retailers in the United States with over 325 stores nationwide. The company sells name-brand grocery items at up to 60% off conventional grocery store retail prices, with over $2 billion in annual gross sales. Annual sales at Grocery Outlet Bargain Markets climbed from $500 million in 2001 to over 2 billion in 2018.

"Our selection here is unique and always changing," Chuks-Orji said. "We provide all of the basics – like milk, eggs and meat customers expect at a very competitive price. We also feature fresh organic produce, an extensive cheese line and an extensive wine selection. Grocery Outlet's selection of natural, organic specialty health products (NOSH) and gluten-free products fill a full grocery aisle.

"We welcome customers who haven't discovered us to stop by and browse our aisles. They'll be very surprised by the savings they'll find at Grocery Outlet.

Grocery Outlet at 8835 Greenback Lane in Orangevale is open 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. daily. Visit groceryoutlet.com or ovview.com to sign up for coupons and email savings. Call 916-293-9901 for more information.

Are you feeding a stray? Not planned. It just happened. It's happened to all of us. Now you're faced with a vet bill to get kitty fixed so it doesn't reproduce. But it's not your cat! But you know there are way too many kitties out there and you don't want your stray to add to the problem.

Good news! Fluff Buddies has a spay/neuter program. No proof of low income required. Just stop by one of our adoptions events. (Every Saturday and Sunday from noon to 4 p.m. at the Fair Oaks Petco which is located on Madison, at Hazel, in the Raley's Shopping Center.)

We would be glad to issue you a voucher or two that is good for two months. The participating vets are in Roseville (less than five miles away from central Orangevale.)

We also loan out traps at no charge if kitty is skittish about being placed in a carrier. (Help with transport MAY be available.)

Hope to see you soon! And thank you for caring enough to feed an abandoned animal.

Kiwanis Corner

Kiwanis Corner
By Sal Arrigo, Jr.

We have finally broken ground and the building is going up quickly! An actual building, no, but a solid foundation is being put in place with the new Kiwanis Club of Orangevale - Fair Oaks taking shape. In our initial membership drive, the new club secured nearly 25 new members, and I am confident this figure will continue to grow. Kiwanis is attracting individuals in these communities who want to work with school children as their primary focus; Kiwanis however, is also open to service projects for other populations.

Even though we have just begun, this new club has already participated in service at the Divine Savior Catholic Church Treasure Fest (August 1-3), and has made plans to serve the Fair Oaks and Orangevale libraries, various elementary schools, Casa Roble High School, and the Orangevale Park District. The Kiwanis Club will also become members of both the Fair Oaks and Orangevale Chambers of Commerce.

This club will not be boring! We will move around the community and visit a variety of places so that people know we are very willing to put out the effort to enhance the lives of children and others in need. Kiwanis' presence in Orangevale and Fair Oaks has resulted in meaningful conversations with the 20/30 Club of Folsom, The Grange and the Orangevale Woman's Club, the goal being collaboration on community projects.

Why not consider joining Kiwanis? Our commitment is reasonable; we meet two evenings a month on the second and fourth Tuesday, and it is ideal for working folks. One meeting is for business, the other is social. We ask that you commit a few hours a month to service and that you stay engaged with the group and its activities. We are not interested in the type of car you drive, your success in business, or how much you have in your bank account. We welcome everyone, and we mean that!

Want more information? Find us at facebook.com/KiwanisClubofOFO or email us at kiwanisclubofifo@gmail.com.

Better yet, visit us at El Gallo Mexican Restaurant, located at 11773 Fair Oaks Blvd., on the second Tuesday of every month. Meetings begin at 6:30 pm. The social meetings change venues on a monthly basis.

Sal Arrigo, Jr. is the president of the Kiwanis Club of Orangevale - Fair Oaks. The Kiwanis Corner will be published monthly.

Pencil

A number two pencil is first on a list.

The irony amuses and might seem like jest. This pencil led others. For supplies, students search.

Drawing them closer, it's part of homework.
