HAPPY Independence DAY

GRAND OPENING ORANGEVALE HISTORY MUSEUM

I'm sure by now you may have heard some rumors about a museum in Orangevale. It's true! Orangevale is getting its first ever history museum and you're invited! Save the date, July 15th 11am-4pm and come join us! The museum is located at 6920 Hazel Avenue just past Orangevale Community Park. Enter the gate and drive to the back.

There will be food, music, a car exhibit, museum exhibits of course of early Orangevale, raffles, ribbon cutting at noon and much more!!!

Let's gather as a community and celebrate this exciting day in history as we make more memories for the history books. The museum is being established by the Orangevale History Project and has been sponsored by a number of Orangevale businesses.

Please visit the History Project serving at the beer and wine garden at our local Farmers Market Thursday June 29th from 5-8 pm at the Orangevale Community Park. Come by, say hi, have a drink and learn more about who we are!

The monthly general meeting will be held on Wednesday, July 5th at 6:30 pm at the Pathway Fellowship Church at Greenback Avenue and Pecan, Note change of venue for the meeting. The speaker is Bill Kier, A Storyteller of His Youth in Orangevale". He and his family lived in the first Calder Queen Anne home from 1946 -1956 before it became the Orbit Gas Station.

NEIGHBORHOOD 4TH OF JULY PARADE PAGE 17

What once was known as Pow Wow Days is now called Orangevale Summer Palooza. Simply a weekend to continue the tradition of gathering for the community of Orangevale. There were more vendors than ever before supplying us with a variety of great food and wares on display for purchase. The entertainment line-up proved to be amazing in its own rights. In partnership with the non-profit group Women Veterans Giving another tradition was included this year. The Parade and a 5K Fun Run were added on Saturday. It all managed to fit together in a wonderful weekend for all to enjoy.

This great event is the result of local small business (All Events Management Group) owner Lisa Montes dedicated to preserving the tradition of a family friendly community event. Several schools and non-profit groups received additional funds for their organization as a direct interaction with Orangevale Summer Palooza. Businesses were able to reach out to the community in which they service. Exhibitors shared the novelty of their products and crafts. Kids got to do an array of activities.

But, like anything else there is always room for improvement. The committee recently re-capped the event and reviewed the input we received from you folks out in the community. "I can't thank the community enough for all the wonderful comments regarding the changes that were implanted this ast year as well as the suggestions and constructive criticism that will help us make next year's event even better. So next year, when they attend the event, many will see the changes and suggestions that submitted. I hope everyone realizes the direct impact to the community and to the event. Orangevale is OUR TOWN. We need to continue to work together to provide a strong sense of community pride!", said Lisa.

So, with this year's event over and the closing of the books almost completed, Lisa would like to extend an invitation to become a part of the event. Because without those who donate their talents, sponsor the event, or attended the event could not come back each year. Next year's planning has already begun. If you would like to be a part of this tradition, I urge you to contact me as soon as possible. Email Lisa@ovsummerpalooza.com or call 916.934.2207 to see what contributions you can give to the next great event.

LETTERS TO EDITOR

I am writing to completely support your views on law enforcement, etc. in the latest OV View. What I don't support is the political posturing of slamming state-wide legislation related to more liberal viewpoints -even if I might agree with some of it. I believe in a small community paper like this, just state what you're for. We have enough political drama nationally. I've been avoiding divisive news and don't feel it's appropriate in this paper.

Rob

Our Crazy County
(c) by Mark Dempsey

Although my County Supervisor, Sue Frost, likes to portray herself as "fiscally responsible," "No New Taxes" was her campaign slogan--she recently voted to approve a $450m expansion of the County's jail, adding an additional justice-related expense to the 70% of the County's budget already spent on policing and incarceration.

A few facts on the matter: "If throwing money at police and prisons made us safer, we would probably already be the safest country in the history of the world. We are not, because insufficient punishment is not the root cause of violence. And if people are talking about how tough they are and how scared you should be, they care more about keeping you scared than keeping you safe...

"In Denver, a five-year randomized control trial of a program that provides housing subsidies to those at risk of being unhoused found a 40 percent reduction in arrests among participants. These kinds of results are why localities from New Jersey to New Mexico are restructuring their local governments to invest in the social determinants of health and safety...

"If you want policies that actually work, you have to change the political conversation from 'tough candidates punishing bad people' to 'strong communities keeping everyone safe.' Candidates who care about solving a problem pay attention to what caused it. Imagine a plumber who tells you to get more absorbent flooring but does not look for the leak." (from The Root Cause of Violent Crime Is Not What We Think It Is, NY Times)

The Supervisors who voted for this $450m monstrosity that will be a financial burden for the County for decades are asking us to get "more absorbent flooring." Ms. Frost's newsletter portrays this decision as "Build a bigger jail" vs. "Let everyone go," but it's not so. There are alternatives, as governments from New Jersey to New Mexico have found, but the County believes more policing is the answer.

For a little perspective, the U.S. population increased by 42% between 1982 and 2017. Money spent on policing and incarceration increased by 187% during that same period. What was that definition of insanity? Repeating more of the same, but expecting a different outcome...? Ladies and Gentlemen, I give you the Insane County of Sacramento.

Thank you, Orangevale! From the Orangevale Friends of the Library

Many thanks to those who participated in our April 29 book sale. We had a very successful event and hope to have a book sale again next year! All the proceeds from the sale benefit the Orangevale Library and support programs and services such as Read to a Dog, Lucky Day books, art journaling, and more.

Special thanks to all the volunteers for helping us with the set up and take down of the sale. Your support and hard work were invaluable!

If you didn't buy enough books at the sale, the Friends' Bookstore is always open! Well, at least, when the library is! The Friends have a great selection of books, puzzles, DVDs, and magazines for sale, all very reasonably priced. Please stop by the next time you visit the library.

The Friends are always looking for volunteers to help in the bookstore and with other duties that support the library. Hours and commitment are very flexible. Please contact us at friendsovl@gmail.com and we will follow up.

PRIORITIZING YOUR SAFETY

Prioritizing Your Safety: My Pledge to Support Law Enforcement and Protect Our Neighbor- hoods.

By Sue Frost

Recently, I received a distressing phone call from a constituent who was very upset and understandably so. She described how two individuals unlawfully entered the retail store, armed with large bags to loot the store's merchandise.

The shattering of glass echoed through the air, led her to shout in frustration, questioning whether anyone would step up and intervene. The gravity of this situation deeply disturbed me. She had just experienced a distressing incident that has sadly become all too common in our society: a brazen daylight burglary.

The “decarceration” and “defund police” movements have made our neighborhoods less safe, eroded the morale of our law enforcement agencies, and hurt small businesses that power our economy. These dangerous ideologies prioritize criminals over community - and even the real victims of crime. And they aren't done yet.

Three of the worst manifestations of these ideologies are AB 109 and Propositions 47 and 57 - and they have a direct impact on our safety that the Board of Supervisors must address.

AB109, which was passed in 2011, transferred thousands of felons from State Prisons to our local county jails. Our jails were never designed to hold long-term prisoners and the influx of felons meant thousands of jail inmates were simply released into our neighborhoods.

Prop 47, inaccurately called the Safe Neighborhoods and Schools Act, reduced penalties for specific offenses from felonies to misdemeanors. Among other inexplicable changes, it reduced penalties for stealing a gun.

Prop 57 was billed as another “justice reform” that would make us safer. But in truth, it reclassified many violent crimes as “non-violent,” thus making these violent offenders eligible for early release from prison or transfer to County jail. These “reforms” include classifying the rape of an unconscious person as a “non-violent” crime.

The result of these three “laws” is more criminals in our neighborhoods and more victims of their crimes in our communities, schools, and hospitals. That's not acceptable.

My recent Community Survey outlined the scope of the problem — nearly 25% of the residents that took my survey reported that they have been the victim of a crime. The vast majority are property crimes, like the rash of catalytic converter thefts, but many are person crimes as well - from home invasions to rape, robbery, and murder.

Let me be perfectly clear - there is no such thing as a “victimless crime.” Criminals who invade our cars, homes, and businesses rob us of our sense of security, retail thefts drive up costs for food and other necessities, and violent crimes harm too many of our citizens. All crimes create victims.

Sadly, some politicians and their activist allies are far more concerned with the needs and desires of criminals than their victims or the community.

This has had a severe impact on our communities in the region and across the state. Prop 47 has directly contributed to the rise of retail shoplifting. Many retail stores have been forced to implement extra security measures to safeguard their cosmetic and toiletry products. A recent report published by the National Retail Federation underscored the staggering economic loss incurred due to retail theft, amounting to nearly $30 billion annually.

Elections have consequences. The rise of “decarceration” ballot measures and politicians who support their agenda has only emboldened criminals and hindered our law enforcement officers, our retail stores, small businesses, and our law-abiding citizens!

County Supervisors can't change state law, but we can take action to ensure the public is still protected by investing in our public safety systems and personnel.

That is why I am supporting additional funding for the Sacramento Sheriff's Department, Probation, and District Attorney's office. Ensuring the safety of our citizens is the government's most sacred responsibility. Our budget should reflect that.

The recently proposed budget for Sacramento County is a step in the right direction. Notably, this budget includes an increase of $35 million allocated to the Sacramento County Sheriff's Office to improve enforcement and outreach related to homelessness, purchase needed equipment like body cameras, and increase pay to boost recruitment and fill empty positions.

For me, the paramount duty of government is to ensure the safety and well-being of the public. As a result, I have consistently focused on public safety in my policy agenda and budget priorities.

I do believe in reform, redemption, and rehabilitation. But simply not prosecuting criminals, or allowing their crimes to go unpunished, accomplishes none of that.

By strengthening our law enforcement agencies, we can better equip them to tackle the challenges we are facing today. Moving forward, it is crucial for policymakers, community leaders, and law enforcement agencies to work collaboratively in refining strategies and implementing measures that effectively address the failures of AB 109, and Propositions 47 and 57. I will be working with our Sheriff, District Attorney, and State Legislatures to do just that.

Through this concerted effort, we can strive towards a safer community that upholds the principles of justice, protection, and public safety.

Thank you for reading — and as always, if you want to contact me, call me at 916-874-5491, or e-mail me at SupervisorFrost@saccounty.net. Sacramento County Supervisor Sue Frost represents the 4th District, which includes the communities of Citrus Heights, Folsom

50TH ANNIVERSARY OF THE ARDEN BLUFF NEIGHBORHOOD 4TH OF JULY PARADE

By: Traci Jensen

In 1973 a group of moms and dads formed a group called the Arden Bluffs Childcare Co-Op. This group was formed as a babysitter co-op getting together for almost any event including the 4th of July. We no longer babysit each other's kids and have changed the name to the Arden Bluff Neighborhood Co-op, but we continue to get together as a community and through our own neighborhood 4th of July parade. Staging begins at 10:00 am and the parade starts at 10:30 am with the national anthem and presentation scooters, cars, dogs! Our parade route will be from Shumway to Dredger crossing Buffalo and turning left on Richdale. Going down Richdale, which will have a splash zone for kids, parents, and dogs, turning left on Bullion and then right on Buffalo for one block. We will turn right on Golden and go down to Bison. Turning left on Bison and then left on Mississippi Bar. We will go all the way down Mississippi Bar to the bend just before it meets Golden. At the end of the route, we will have hotdogs and Kona Ice! Please join us for some good ol' hometown Americana spirit!

of the flag. We will be walking about 1.3 miles starting on Shumway Dr. and Main Ave. Our parade will be led off by our Fire Engine from Station 22 and will include the neighborhood kids decked out in 4th of July outfits with decorated bikes, wagons,
