ORANGEVALE COMMUNITY SWIMMING POOL GETS A MAKEOVER

Located within the Orangevale Community Center Park, the community swimming pool is a popular attraction and destination during the hot summer months for those looking to cool off. It is also the home of the 4-time defending league champion Orangevale TigerSharks swim team, who this summer also won the 48-team Meet of Champions in the small-teams category. OVparks is also proud that our swim instructors helped 1,026 children learn to swim, or improve upon their swimming skills, this summer.

Our community pool was constructed in 1997 and opened to the public in 1998. The pool was very well designed by taking into consideration the various aquatic activities offered by a public recreation agency. It was also well constructed, with the tile and plaster lasting well beyond what is typical. Pool tile will normally remain in good condition for 15-20 years if installed and maintained properly. Plaster has a wider range of 10-20 years depending on proper chemical balance, maintenance, weather variations, and amount of use. OVparks has been fortunate to get 26 quality summers from this community jewel of a pool, but it is now time to put a new shine on it.

Renovation work began on the pool on September 19 by Burkett's Pool Plastering. The primary work includes: remove and replace all plaster; remove and replace all tile; replace all drain covers; and repair areas of cracking in the pool's floor near the shallow end, which has been a source of leaking in recent years. The renovation work could be completed as soon as November but could extend into January if weather causes delays.

OVparks looks forward to opening our shiny "like new" pool to the community in 2024.

TIME FOR REAL ACTION ON HOMELESSNESS

By Sue Frost

During my tenure on the Board of Supervisors, I've observed various approaches and strategies addressing the County's homelessness dilemma. In the past I have referred to the age-old concept of "the carrot and the stick" which frequently emerges in conversations about the governance and regulation of the homeless community. At its core, this idea reflects the universal balance we all strike between rules and rewards.

The complexity of this issue increases when considering a segment of our community that is battling mental health challenges and drug-related disorders. Such individuals can lose track of their possessions, remain unaware of their conditions due to "anosognosia," face the harshness of outdoor living, and regrettably, some become targets for nefarious elements within and outside their community.

My recent discussion with the Sheriff's Office brought forth a key insight: the homeless are not an isolated group, but an intrinsic part of our broader community. Their primary distinction is the lack of a fixed address, and the conscious choice to detach from societal norms. This, understandably, presents unique challenges for our tax-paying society. For example, how does one monitor parolees without an address?

In the unincorporated areas of the County, the Board of Supervisors addresses these challenges by bridging the divide. Programs such as Navigator outreach, Park Rangers, Sheriff HOT Teams, and sweeps serve to maintain a connection with our homeless community. These operations identify encampments, determine if there are criminal records among inhabitants, combat human trafficking, and shield the most vulnerable. Sheriff Cooper's pragmatic approach to law enforcement underscores a simple truth: the laws exist, they merely need consistent application.

Recently, DA Thien Ho took an unprecedented step, sending a message to the City of Sacramento that reiterates this sentiment. His letter emphasizes the necessity for the City of Sacramento to uphold existing laws, especially concerning the management of the downtown homeless population. The point isn't to demonize, but to highlight the importance of consistent enforcement of laws.

The current policy direction in our state has unfortunately widened the gaps in public safety and how we enforce laws. But a lingering question remains, how much longer do taxpayers have to bear the burden of problems amplified by legislative inaction? This isn't just an abstract statement; it's a call for accountability!

Despite the obstacles, I remain hopeful. With leaders like DA Thien Ho and Sheriff Cooper standing up for justice and law, there's a silver lining. Even in the face of criticism, I hold a positive outlook for our Safe Stay communities. Their mission is to pave the way for treatment and brighter prospects for those who need it most. DA Thien Ho's commitment to tackling Sacramento's homelessness issue signals a tide of change.

His candid criticism of Sacramento City's officials, especially regarding the inconsistent enforcement of rules, such as the encampment-clearing ordinance, resonates with many. A new approach is overdue. Residents of Sacramento, both in the County and City, should reside in a place free from illegal encampments, and most importantly everyone deserves an opportunity for a stable future.

Thank you for Reading – and as always if you want to contact me, call me at 916-874-5491, or e-mail me at SupervisorFrost@saccounty.gov. Sacramento County Supervisor Sue Frost represents the 4th District, which includes the communities of Citrus Heights, Folsom, Orangevale, Antelope, North Highlands, Rio Linda, Elverta, and Rancho Murieta.

Cristie Hall Gerard Homes and Memories Part 1

Greenback & Filbert – Hall Ranch

My paternal grandparents, Irving Bertie Hall and wife Della (Clodfelter) Hall built a brick home on Greenback Lane and Filbert Avenue in 1942. My father, Keith Hall lived there while attending San Juan High School. I remember that house just always being there. Dad never said much about it, but he did share two things. When the family was building the swimming pool in the back, the digging got too hard, so grandpa sent dad to Rumsey's (I think that's the right name) Hardware on Bidwell in Folsom to get some dynamite. They kept it in the basement. The other thing he mentioned was that when his brother-in-law, Merle Trumbull joined the Army Air Corp early in the war, he was stationed at McClelland Field and buzzed the house in his P-38. A note on the back of a photograph says that brick would not be available until after the war and that grandpa and dad planted the redwood tree in front in 1942. I visited the "office" part of the house a few years ago. It was a stained-glass business – hopefully still is. I sent them the picture I have of the house when it was being built.

Fiesta Lane

My dad, with likely the help of his father and brothers, built this house. It was at the end of a bumpy dirt and gravel one car wide lane. I was born there, rather in Mercy Hospital in Sacramento but I don't recall anything about the inside except the door to my bedroom had a two-part door, one that was split so you could open the top half or the bottom half separately. I just used the bottom half.

I remember it was kind of a medium green with redish trim. I really remember there was a pond outside, surrounded by rose bushes. My dad taught me to ride a small bicycle out there and gave me a push that launched me through the bushes and into the pond.

The Fred Tomich's lived behind us. They had a big old house, and we were kind of in their back orchard. Not sure how that all happened. I do know the parents' names were Paula and Fred and Fred had a twin brother Tom that lived close by. The Tomich property was grand. They also had lots of kids – even one my age Timmy – and a little younger Eric. Paula's voice matched her personality. Unique and vocal.

In later years, my dad's construction company (Carmichael Construction) - he was the Vice President, and they built the Divine Savior Catholic Church on Greenback Lane. Tom Tomich's orchard was behind it. My Dad wrote that he stopped to see Tom (to me he always seemed grouchy or sad) and inquired about Fred. Tom said they hadn't spoken in over 20 years. I lost touch with Timmy when we moved away.

Another boy our age, Timmy Storm, lived kind of across the street on Filbert Avenue from the Tom Tomich orchards. The Bacons were close too just off Central on (the Foster Freeze side) and further down Central, not yet to Main, were the Culbertsons Jimmy and Jerry and my 3rd grade teacher Mrs. Edd. Mrs. Koonz, our librarian, was on the corner of Main & Central. I just remembered she was also Secretary of the Orangevale Chamber of Commerce when dad was president.

I went to Sunday School at the Methodist Church on Central Avenue -the old one that looked like a church that is now a house.

Cristie continued to live her adult years in Orangevale until moving to Arizona. Look for the next article.

You can make this cheesecake gluten free by using gluten free graham crackers. Also, if you do not have a lot of time, you can make the glaze and put it on a cheesecake from a warehouse store!

If you would like to share a favorite recipe, please send a copy to Suzanne Feblowitz at the Orangevale View (editor@ovview.com). #### LEMON GLAZED CHEESECAKE

2 cups graham cracker crumbs
6 TBSP melted butter
2 TBSP sugar

3 8-ounce packages cream cheese
¾ cup sugar
3 eggs
¼ cup lemon juice
2 tsp grated lemon rind
2 tsp vanilla

2 cups sour cream
3 TBSP sugar
1 tsp vanilla

Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Combine the first 3 ingredients thoroughly. Press crust evenly onto bottom and sides of buttered 9x3 inch springform. Bake 5 minutes. Cool.

Beat cream cheese until soft. Add sugar, blending thoroughly. Add eggs one at a time, beating well after each addition. Mix in lemon juice, rind, and vanilla. Blend well. Turn into springform pan. Bake 35 minutes or until done.

While cake is baking, blend sour cream, sugar and vanilla. Remove cake from oven. Gently spread sour cream mixture over top. Return to oven and bake 12 minutes. Cool on rack for 30 minutes.

Spread with lemon glaze. Chill several hours or overnight before removing sides of pan.

LEMON GLAZE

½ cup sugar
1 ½ TBSP cornstarch
¼ tsp salt
¼ cup water
1/3 cup lemon juice
1 egg yolk
1 TBSP butter
1 tsp grated lemon peel

In a heavy 1-quart saucepan, mix sugar, cornstarch and salt.

Combine water, lemon juice and yolk and add to sugar mixture.

Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until the mixture comes to a slow boil and is thickened.

Add butter and lemon rind. Allow to cool slightly, but spread on cheesecake before the glaze sets.

CASA ROBLE RAMS CRUSH MESA VERDE IN HOMECOMING BLOW-OUT

By Tim Engle

On a night filled with pageantry and excitement, the Casa Roble Rams delivered a performance to remember, defeating the Mesa Verde Mavericks 57-6. Despite Mesa Verde entering the game with a respectable 3-2 record, the Rams showcased their physical dominance from the get-go.

Hosting their annual homecoming game, Casa Roble didn't miss a beat, racking up heavy yardage while the defense stifled the Mavericks' every attempt to get on the board. With homecoming festivities creating an electric atmosphere, the Rams used the momentum to make a statement on the field.

Casa Roble's offense was in top form, with players connecting effortlessly to put points on the board quickly. The night was a showcase of both individual talent and cohesive team play. The Rams looked refreshed and focused, coming off a bye week and demonstrating their readiness to take on the second half of the season.

This win adds another layer to a promising season for Casa Roble. As the Rams continue to fine-tune their play, fans have every reason to anticipate a strong finish to an already exciting season. The Rams now look ahead to their next games on the road at Rio Linda ON October 6th and Woodland on October 13th, before returning home on October 20th to take on Pioneer. Go Rams!

ANTHONY'S CAR STEREO IN ORANGEVALE MAKES A RESOUNDING COMEBACK

the business fifteen years ago, but has only recently taken the reins with a clear vision to guide Anthony's to a new glory. His determination to mend past shortcomings and create a fresh identity for the business is already paying dividends.

Right in the heart of Orangevale, a local fixture since 1984 is undergoing a remarkable transformation. Anthony's Car Stereo is experiencing a renaissance that promises to redefine its reputation and rejuvenate the business. With a fresh perspective and a renewed commitment to customer satisfaction, the shop is setting its sights on a brighter future. In a bold move that signifies the shop's complete transformation and commitment to a fresh start, Anthony's Car Stereo is rebranding itself as "Anthony's House of Sound." This name change represents a pivotal moment in the shop's history and aligns perfectly with its mission to redefine the audio and electronics retail experience.

New Management, New Team, New Attitude
One of the cornerstones of the shop's revival is its new management team. Anthony has brought in experienced professionals who are well-versed in the ever-evolving world of audio and electronics. With a focus on product knowledge and customer service, the team is determined to make every visit to Anthony's a memorable and enjoyable experience.

The changes don't stop at management. Skilled and enthusiastic installers have been assembled, ensuring that customers receive top-notch service when they're ready to upgrade their audio. Continue page 16

A Rocky Past, A Promising Future
For years, Anthony's had been marred by a less-than-stellar reputation. Former owners and staff struggled to meet customer expectations, resulting in dissatisfaction and a decline in business. The shop's savior comes in the form of a familiar name - Anthony. The new owner, coincidentally sharing the same name as the shop, purchased systems. From car audio and security installations to home theater setups, the shop's new team is ready to tackle any project with skill and precision.

A Fresh Vibe for Orangevale

Perhaps the most noticeable change at Anthony's House of Sound is the transformation of its ambiance. After moving the business into a converted residence adjacent to its former location on Greenback Lane, the once-dated and uninspiring exterior underwent a complete makeover, reflecting a modern and inviting atmosphere. The comfortable and inviting showroom boasts an impressive array of the latest audio and entertainment technologies, showcasing cutting-edge equipment by JL Audio, Memphis, Kenwood, and more.

Customer-Centric Approach

Anthony's is on a mission to rebuild trust with the community through its active involvement and participation in local events. They've implemented policies focused on transparent pricing, superior customer service, lifetime install warranty, and customer feedback. Anthony himself has stated, "We want our customers to feel like family when they walk into our House of Sound, and we're willing to go the extra mile to earn their trust."

A Bright Future Ahead

With a new owner, fresh management, skilled installers, and a rejuvenated vibe, Anthony's House of Sound is poised for a remarkable comeback. The shop's overhaul serves as a testament to the power of dedication and determination in revitalizing a local business and rebuilding its reputation. As Orangevale and Folsom residents once again find their way to this iconic establishment, it's clear that Anthony's is well on its way to becoming a cherished community institution.

A Barktastic Day at Bow Wow Days 2023

The weather was PURRfect for all the loved pets who attended the 3rd Annual Bow Wow Days on September 23. Held at Orangevale Community Park, folks came from all over the valley to participate in the activities.

This event is produced by All Events Management Group (a local event company) in partnership with Helping Hands of Orangevale -Fair Oaks (a local non-profit). They joined forces in 2021 to bring together pet products, resources, and education for all pet lovers.

The organizers are already planning next year's event and are looking to add additional elements to expand the fun.

Thank you to all our vendors, rescues and all that came out. HUGE THANK YOU to the main sponsor, Friends of Front Street Shelter for making Bow Wow Days PAWssible! This group is on the front lines of pet saving.

Skull Pillow

On a pillow is an image of a skull implying the following is possible:
One who slumbers on it might feel dead tired (maybe at night, after day expired).
Maybe one relaxing on it deeply sleeps; perhaps that deep sleep seems like resting in peace...
